YAMASHITA TO HANG FOR WAR CRIMES

FOUR YEARS AFTER PEARL HARBOR THE STORY UNFOLDS, In the nation's capital today threads of mystery behind the Pearl Harbor tragedy are being unravelled as congress, through a 10-man committee, conducts a public hearing, right, in an effort to get the true story of the infamy. On that December morning in 1941, while Japanese bombs fell on the major units of the U S fleet at Pearl Harbor, center above, in Washington, left above, two emissaries from the land of the rising sun, Ambassador Kichisaburo Nomura, left, and Special Envoy Soburo Kurusu, right were in peace negotiation conferences with the U S Secretary of State Cordell Hull, center The investigation, postponed for the three and one-half years it took to bring the "Sons of Heaven" to their knees, highlights America's observation of the catastrophe's anniversary.

G.O.P. LEADER RAPS TRUMAN

Gov. Green Charges Administration Suffers Humiliating Diplomatic Defeat.

By JACK BELL
AP Political News Editor

CHICAGO Dec 7—Gov Dwight H Green of Illinois charged before the Republican national committee today that the Truman administration had suffered the most humiliating defeat in history by losing "every skirmish on the international diplomatic front"

In an address possibly presaging his candidacy for G O P presidential nomination in 1948, the Illinois governor asserted "we have been told that we should not raise our voice against the rape of Java by the British and Dutch for fear of offending some voters

"We have been told," he said "we must not even protest against the shameful betrayal of Poland for fear of offending Russia s following over here"

Must Decide

The Republicans must make up their minds in the first peacetime meeting of the national committee in four years, he declared, whether they were going to fish or cut bait

We must never condone the suppression of liberty in Poland, in the Balkan states, in the Baltic states, in any nation in Europe, Asia or elsewhere," he declared adding

"We must be our vigorous policy to use the leverage afforded by the suspension of forgiveness of lend-lease or of requests for new loans and every other peaceful means to speed the liberation of the people of these nations."

The Republican committee members had gathered here to approve what most of them regarded as a generalized statement of principles issued by their colleagues of the house and senate and by a report by Herbert Brownell national committee chairman

Wants Economy

Regarding domestic issues Green declared the "time has come to bring national expenditures into line with the tax receipts of the national government"

He said

"I believe most of our labor disputes could be settled promptly if management and labor were willing to negotiate in their own in-

EARLY HITLER PLOT FOR INVASION SHOWN

By The Associated Press

NUREMBERG Dec 7—Hitler's plans for the invasion of the Low Countries and France Nov 7 1939, but the attack was postponed week by week for months because of bad weather, German records disclosed at the war crimes trial

Nazi world spoke sarcastically of a 'phony war,' the German military machine was preparing only for favorable moment according to records introduced before the international military tribunal

But prosecutors turned most of the evidence against German army and naval leaders among the top-ranking Hitlerites accused as war criminals, pointing to their part in plans for the invasion while Hitler publicly told Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg he had no plans against them.

The lightning column conquest of Norway and Denmark was only a part of the invasion a month before the Low Countries, the prosecution introduced German

Sales to date	4,832,426.75
E Bond quota	562,650.00
E Bond sales	471,136.75

* * *

E bond sales were less than $100,000 from the county quota today The War Finance Committee reported E bond sales yesterday of $11,568.75 to place the total for the Victory Loan at $471,136.75.

Total bond sales for the campaign stand at $4,832,426 75 Sales yesterday amounted to $256,668 75

In addition to E bonds other issues were sold yesterday in the following amounts

Series G $2,600, series C $1,500, treasury 2½ $241,000.

In Washington, D. C., today The Associated Press quoted a U. S treasury report that the Victory Loan had gone over the top of its $11,000,000,000 goal

Only $1,165,000 000 was in E bonds, the securities aimed primarily at the consumer with idle cash

The E bond goal is $2 000 000 000 Sales to date represent only 58 per cent of the goal The drive, which began Oct. 29, ends officially tomorrow midnight but accounting of E bonds will continue until Dec 31.

SCHOOL PUPILS ADD TO BOND SALE TOTAL

Victory Loan Record Boosted to $101,050.

Sales in the school Victory Bond campaign took another jump today with additional reports from Central Junior High school and scattered sales from other sales

A continuation of the campaign at Central Junior High school produced an additional $1 012 50, sufficient to put the school over the top in its drive to furnish a complete hospital unit to care for wounded servicemen

The additional reports place the total sales in the school drive at $101,050 50

Cecil W. Gabler, chairman of the school activities committee of the Marion County War Finance Committee, reported that results of the sale are being mailed to Cleveland bond drive headquarters today

The schools sold sufficient bonds to entitle them to have their names on 29 plaques to be attached to beds in the hospital units Duplicate plaques will be struck off and sent to the schools, Mr Gabler said.

Administration Pressing For Congress' OK on British Loan

Capitol Hill Reaction to $4,400,00.000 Agreement Mixed; Already Signed by Vinson and Halifax.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec 7—The administration wound up today for an attempt to obtain an O.K. from congress on a $4,400,000,000 credit to Great Britain.

The state department wants the people on Capitol Hill to go down the line for the agreement as reached by U S. and British negotiators.

But the comment from up there indicated the subject would have to be threshed out in a full-dress two-chamber debate after the holidays before the lawmakers would be ready to stand up and be counted

2% Interest

The agreement signed by Secretary of the Treasury Vinson and Ambassador Halifax provides for a $3,750,000 000 loan repayable at 2 per cent interest in the 50 years beginning with 1951, plus a $650,000,000 credit to settle up for lease-lend goods not yet wiped off the books.

The British agreed to work with the United States in attempts to break down barriers to free world trade such as international cartels They agreed to wipe out within a year the wartime dollar pool under which Britain controlled the flow of dollars into empire areas where the currency is based on the pound sterling

First congressional reaction was mixed Many members—including Chairman Wagner (D-NY) of the senate banking committee—said they wanted to study the proposal before passing on its merits

The comment which was heard ranged from this by Rep Celler (D-NY) "It will promote too damned much socialism at home and too damned much imperialism abroad"—to this by Senator Hill (D-Ala)' "The loan should be made In making it we are promoting the interests of the United States as well as the stability and peace of the world"

Report on Bill

The house expenditures committee, which knocked the administration-backed so-called "full employment" bill in the head, came out with its formal report on a substitute measure it has offered the house

The committee said that even under the modified bill the senate passed 'employment through private enterprise would be perfunctory and the guaranty would really rest on federal investment and expenditure" The committee s substitute would authorize the government to stimulate private enterprise in time of unemployment by expanding public works and making loans

Big Five Ministers May Meet in Moscow

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec 7—A foreign office spokesman said today that Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin was expected to make an announcement, possibly late today, about a possible meeting of the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, Russia, France and China.

Reports circulated in well-informed quarters that the five foreign ministers since their inconclusive conference might meet in Moscow soon.

GM STRIKERS TO TALK PEACE

Parley Resumed After UAW Leaders Reject 10 Per Cent Wage Boost.

By The Associated Press

Efforts to settle the nation's major labor dispute, the walkout of some 200 000 employes at General Motors plants, highlighted the country s strike picture today

An offer of a 10 per cent wage increase to the strikers came at yesterday s initial conference since the start of the walkout last Nov 21 between company and CIO United Auto Workers leaders It was rejected by the union but another meeting was arranged today to continue wage negotiations.

Still Is Optimism

Despite the union's rejection of the 13½ cents an hour increase as against the union's demand for a 30 per cent boost, there remained an air of optimism that some avenue of approach to settlement of the wage dispute might be found

General Motors offered a 13½ cents an hour hike to 25,000 CIO United Electrical Workers who are demanding a $2 a day boost The electrical workers, who are planning a strike vote Dec 13 with about 245,000 employes in General Electric and Westinghouse plants, voted on the offer but results were not announced immediately

The General Motors walkout involved approximately one half of the total idle throughout the country because of labor disputes

Also in Detroit two federal conciliators arranged conferences with UAW-CIO and Chrysler Corp officials

Issues Terms

At a national shipbuilding conference in Colorado Springs Colo a CIO union leader proposed a 17½ cents an hour wage boost "across the board and a 30 per cent weekly salary hike upon reduction of hours for the nation s shipyard workers

In New York, the American Airlines announced granting pay increases averaging 10 7 per cent to its more than 3 000 mechanics throughout the country The company also said the 40-hour work week would become effective Jan 1

Conferences were to be resumed in Cleveland today in an effort to negotiate settlement of a strike of about 4,000 A&L Greyhound bus workers who have been off the job since Nov. 1 in a wage dispute.

Marysville Mapping Welcome for Beightler and 37th Men

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Dec. 7—A "welcome home" community celebration honoring men and women of Marysville who served and are serving in the armed forces, and with Maj Gen. Robert S. Beightler, a "native son," as one of those honored and as principal speaker, was announced today by Mayor William F. Asman.

Mayor Asman said that he has extended an invitation on behalf of the community to Maj. Gen Beightler to come to his "home town" for the celebration on Wednesday, Dec. 19, three days after the huge celebration to be staged in Columbus for the commander of the 37th (Ohio) Division and his officers and men.

Gen Many Ribs

Maj. Gen. Beightler is now aboard ship enroute to the United States from the Philippines and it is not yet known if he can be in Marysville on Dec. 19 as he has been flooded with invitations from many cities throughout Ohio.

Mr. Asman said because of the limited time, it is planned to go ahead and make all arrangements for the Dec 19 date, and then, if Maj. Gen. Beightler is unable to come here at that time, to postpone the same arrangements until later.

Mayor Asman has appointed the following committee on arrangements Dr Angus MacIvor, local Chapter of Rainbow Division Veterans, which is composed of men who served with Maj Gen Beightler in the 166th Infantry in World War I and among them Dr MacIvor was highest ranking officer in that war; Scott Crevistion, commander of the local Legion Post, Sidney L. McCamey, local VFW Post, Albert Saygrover, DAV Chapter; Gerald L Kingsmore, city council. The Kiwanis and Lions clubs are each to select a representative to complete the committee.

Plan Two Features

Mayor Asman said that the general outline of the celebration would be for a public gathering at the high school auditorium at

BYRNES DENIES HURLEY BLAST AT DIPLOMATS

Secretary Finds No Evidence, Challenges Other Charges of Ex-Ambassador.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON Dec 7—Secretary of State Byrnes declared today he had been unable to find any evidence of disloyalty on the part of the two American diplomats whom Maj Gen Patrick J Hurley charged with seeking to wreck his efforts for a unified China

Byrnes also challenged Hurley's assertion that during his service as ambassador to Chungking he had been unable to get a public statement of American policy toward China from President Truman or Secretary Byrnes or other ranking officials

Appearing before the senate foreign relations committee hearing evidence on Hurley s resignation of the China post last week Byrnes said Hurley never had asked him for such a statement nor made a written request for it to the state department so far as Byrnes had been able to find out

Truman Questioned

The secretary said he also asked President Truman whether Hurley requested a China policy statement from him and the President "does not recall such a request"

Byrnes appeared after Hurley had spent two days attacking state department career diplomats and specifically accusing George Atcheson and John Service, formerly on duty in China, of having worked against Hurley's efforts to unify the Chinese Central government and the Chinese Communists

Byrnes said "in my opinion, based upon the information which has thus far been presented to me, there is nothing' in documents written by Atcheson and Service while in China 'to support the charge that either Mr Atcheson or Mr Service was guilty of the slightest disloyalty to his superior officers"

The secretary of state declared that while every American foreign service officer must administer 'the declared policy of his government" he should 'not hesitate to express his views' when he believes changed conditions require it

To Recall Hurley

Chairman Tom Connally (D-Tex) said Hurley would be recalled before the committee to amplify his contention Undersecretary of State Dean Atcheson 'defeated' American foreign policy in Iran

Hurley had assailed the assignment recently of Atcheson and Service as political advisors to

Pearl Harbor Again Mighty on Attack's Fourth Anniversary

By The Associated Press

PEARL HARBOR Dec 7—Four years ago the watery chaotic graveyard of America's battle fleet today the home base of the mightiest sea power in the world

That is the story of Pearl Harbor on this fourth anniversary of the Japanese bid to sweep the United States from the Pacific Soldiers sailors marines and civilians joined today in tribute to those who died beneath the Japanese warlords' first blow

Four years ago Japan's sneak raiders knifed in from the sea and across Oahu island s towering Koolau mountains to smash the U S warships lying at anchor in the peace of a balmy Sunday morning

Out of that wreckage grew the power which drove the Japanese into defeat, and today the people of Hawaii gave thanks and honored those whose deaths have been avenged

Virtually the only reminders today of the disaster that struck Dec 7, 1941, were the rusting, barnacled sections of unsalvaged ships in the harbor, and the rows of crosses gleaming white against the green hillside rising above the placid waters of the harbor

The only strident voices raised on this fourth anniversary of the Pearl Harbor attack were the voices of peace—the voices of weary, lonely G.I.'s and sailors, shouting.

"Get us home! Get us home!"

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON Dec 7 — Gen George C Marshall told Pearl Harbor investigators today Admiral Harold R Stark thought warnings to Pacific commanders on Dec 7, 1941 would "only confuse them"

So Stark, then chief of naval operations at first opposed sending such warnings after it became clear trouble was brewing for the United States that day, Mar-

BANDIT TAKES $25 IN MT. GILEAD HOLDUP

Robber's Car Carries Plates Stolen in Marion.

Using license plates stolen Wednesday night from a car owned by Robert Stair of 472 East Center street, a lone bandit, described by the Morrow county sheriff's office as about 45 or 50 and weighing about 200 lbs., held up the City Service Station in Mt Gilead yesterday at 10 30 a. m and escaped with an estimated $25

The bandit, according to the sheriff s report, entered the station and struck the attendant, Lawrence Taylor of Mt. Gilead, on the head with an automatic pistol when Taylor was slow in turning over cash receipts He escaped in a car thought to be either a 1940 Mercury or Ford, color unknown

Mr Stair had just reported the theft of his license plates to local police yesterday morning when a radio flash told of the holdup using these plates.

JAP GENERAL GIVEN DEATH IN ATROCITIES

Declares Innocence as U. S. Court Passes Sentence in Philippine Atrocities.

By The Associated Press

MANILA, Dec 7 — Lt. Gen Tomoyuki Yamashita has a date with the hangman

A five-general military commission today convicted the former Japanese commander of the Philippines of having permitted "a series of atrocities and high crimes by Japanese armed forces under your command' and passed the death sentence

Those brutalities "were not sporadic incidents, but were often methodically supervised by Japanese officers and noncommissioned officers," Maj Gen. Russell B. Reynolds, president of the commission, stated as he read the verdict

Yamashita became the first top war criminal of the Pacific to be convicted and sentenced.

Pleads Innocence

Before hearing the verdict, the stock defendant stood, visibly nervous while an interpreter read this statement

"I wish to stand here today with a clear conscience and swear to God I am innocent of these charges. I wish to take this opportunity to express gratitude to the United States officers of the defense, brilliant and upright officers I want to thank the commission for a fair trial"

As the interpreter spoke, Yamashita nervously removed his wrist watch, wound it fumblingly

When the commission was ready to pronounce sentence, the three-star general was led before the bench with his chief counsel, Col. Harry E. Clarke.

Reynolds intoned·

"This commission finds that a series of atrocities and high crimes were committed by Japanese armed forces under your command against nationals of the United States and its Allies and dependencies. That these were not sporadic incidents, but were often methodically supervised by Japanese officers and noncommissioned officers

"During the period in question you failed to provide effective control of your troops as required by the circumstances Accordingly, on a secret ballot, two-thirds of this commission concurring, this commission finds you guilty as charged and sentences you to death by hanging '

Recovers Quickly

Yamashita's shoulders sagged as he heard the sentence, but he straightened quickly and made a curt bow to the commission. He was led back to his cell.

In Tokyo a few hours before the verdict was read, the General s wife said she had declined suggestions from friends to appeal to Mrs Douglas MacArthur for "help and justice for my husband"

"The method of justice on the American side is admirably fair," she was quoted by the newspaper Mainichi "I am pleased with it. I thought my husband should be put on trial naturally because he took command for a long time in the front"

Yamashita has an appeal to the United States supreme court pending and at least three additional appeals to make.

Defense counsel has indicated it will take full advantage of every possibility because the Yamashita case is precedent-setting in international laws

Yamashita's first appeal will be made to Lt. Gen. W D Styer, commander of Army forces in the western Pacific If Styer upholds the commission, he may appeal to General MacArthur, as Allied commander of the Pacific; then to the U. S supreme court

BROTHER IS FOUND AFTER GILLMAN RITES

Xenia Basketmaker Is Only Known Heir to War Bonds.

Nearly 24 hours after funeral services for Dave Everett Gillman, 59, of 202 Hughes avenue, who died suddenly Saturday, leaving $4,900 in war bonds, a brother has been found, the sheriff's department at Xenia notified county officials today. He is Syman F. Gillman of Xenia.

Like his deceased brother, Symian Gillman is a basketmaker and lives alone. He has been ill recently and when first efforts to locate relatives were directed at Xenia, authorities there overlooked him. Search then was centered on Louis Lambert of Xenia, thought to be a fourth cousin. Lambert was never found and another brother, William, of Dayton, was found to have been dead three years.

Funeral services for the Marion man were held yesterday at 2:30 p. m. in the Edwin K. Smith Home for Funerals with Rev. Joel Harmon, pastor of First Pilgrim Holiness church officiating. Burial was made in the Marion cemetery.

Club Completes Plans for All-Star Game

Arrangements were made for the coming benefit basketball game to be played with the Ohio State university All-Star team next Wednesday night at a meeting of Y-Indus service club Thursday night in the Y. M. C. A. The game will start at 8:30 in the Armory.

Players on the opposing team will include Dick Mulvaine, Charlie Fazio, Dick Fisher, Ollie Cline, Hal Daughtery, Bob Dove and Steve O'Dea.

Proceeds are to be used for the purchase of a motion picture projector for the Y. M. C. A.

David Livingston went to Africa in 1841 as a medical missionary and became an explorer after he got there.

Conservatives Seek To Defeat U. S. Loan

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec. 7—Two Conservative members of parliament offered a motion today to disapprove the proposal for $4,000,000,000 United States loan and to reject a ratification bill for Britain's participation in the Bretton Woods monetary agreement.

The motion was offered by Conservative members Robert Boothby and Christopher Hollis.

Britain's Labor government moved rapidly for ratification of the Bretton Woods plan, after completion of negotiations with the United States for the loan.

HOME LOANS — VICTORY BONDS — INSURED SAVINGS

A REPORT from your 'JOBS and PROGRESS' CIVIC PLANNING GROUP

FIRST we want to thank the citizens of Marion for the interest taken in the recent bond election. You displayed more civic spirit in this election than has been shown here in a generation. That is a good sign. It shows you want a better city.

Three important issues were passed. We feel sure no one will regret having provided for a modern airport; a renewed and enlarged sewage disposal and sewer system and the 4 mill school operating levy.

You showed you were not fully satisfied with the plans offered for recreation centers and with the idea of converting Harding High School into a city administration building. We cheerfully abide by that decision. With your help, better plans for these two important projects can be developed.

The school program lost by a hair. IN OUR OPINION THIS WAS THE MOST IMPORTANT ISSUE OF ALL. It involves the future of Marion and the education of our youth. Truly—our school facilities are far behind the times. Their condition has handicapped us in the past and MUST be corrected to allow Marion's growth in the future—educationally and industrially.

YOUR Civic Planning Group has decided to resubmit a school program to you at the earliest practical moment. With this in mind we have already met with the school board in an effort to jointly create an IMPROVED program—one which will include some NEW features which will enthuse you.

We shall continue to study the program until we are sure that we have an even BETTER solution for Marion's school development than the last one. We trust that the new program will be so good that you will approve it by at least a 75% majority.

In the meantime we shall welcome YOUR suggestions. They will ... most careful consideration. Address your letters to either of ... — Ellis Oiler, 184 E. Fairground St. or J. B. VICTORY BOND DIGEST...

Why should I buy Bonds now that the War is over? A good question with many answers. Buy them for the sake of our boys . . . the millions still in uniform . . . the hundreds of thousands on the way home. To help them start life anew.

The shooting has stopped, but it's not all over yet . . . not till the last man is back can we on the home front consider our obligations met. Obligations we owe to every man who served in the cause of Liberty. It's a costly undertaking, a responsibility we must not neglect. That's why our Government needs Eleven Billion Dollars invested in Victory Bonds. Could there be a better reason!

VICTORY LOAN

Remember? How can we ever forget! Disaster and death came out of the clear blue sky to strike like a thunderbolt! Never again will America be so totally unprepared . . . never again will America let her guard down. We're going to make sure it won't happen again by backing our words with action. Action that will make Post-war America strong. That means a solid economy . . . without inflation. That means giving the boys who did the fighting a break . . . backing up the G. I. Bill of Rights. The best way to do it . . . Buy Victory Bonds. The best time . . . right now . . . December 7th . . . a DARK day in America's past, a great day to reaffirm your faith in America's future.

7,500 Cans of Food Collected by St. Mary School Pupils

More than 7,500 cans have been turned in thus far in the campaign for canned food which is being collected for the starving people of Europe and the Far East. Thursday the number of cans reported was 4,800.

The local drive is being conducted by St. Mary school students as their share in a national drive to get food to the destitute people made homeless by the war.

Rev. Father James J. Carroll, assistant pastor at St. Mary church, estimated that more than five tons of canned food is being packed at the school now in readiness for the shipment at the close of the drive.

The national drive is being conducted by the National Catholic Welfare Conference. Father Carroll is chairman for the drive in Marion and Morrow counties.

The fifth grade students and sophomore class are leading in the collection according to the latest count. Rev. William J. Spicherman, pastor, has promised a half-holiday to the room accounting for the largest number of cans before the drive closes Dec. 18.

Posters pertaining to the campaign which have been made by each grade at the school will be judged and the most original ones placed in the windows of Marion banks this weekend.

The original goal for Marion was set at 2,000 cans. When the first count of food collected revealed that that quota had been more than doubled, the self-imposed goal of a carload of cans was announced and the students are working toward that quota now.

One of the students told Father Carroll today about his visit to one Marion home. The student had gone to ask for a can or two of food but instead of receiving any item from the resident, the child was given a $10 bill to be used for the purchase of cans.

Social Affairs

HOLIDAY MOTIFS carried out a colorful decorative theme for the annual guest party held by the Child Study club last evening at Detrick's Inn. Mrs. Everett Grigsby, guest speaker, gave an interesting talk on children's literature and also suggested books for reading by children of all ages. Completing the program hour were two piano numbers by Alan Cleveland.

Guests included Mrs. Donald Crumrine, Mrs. G. B. Hoberson, Mrs. Robert Willey, Mrs. Thomas Towner, Mrs. Victor Gibbs, Mrs. Robert W. Smith, Mrs. LaVerne Pfeiffer and Mrs. Dolphus Schlickman.

Mrs. Woodrow Frost entertained the Ohio Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at her home on South Main street Wednesday night.

A donation of $28 was voted to the Chaplain Service Corps, a national service project for war veterans. A shipment of vitamin capsules is being prepared by the sorority to be mailed Monday to Biarritz, France, due to the shortage of nutritious food in that country.

Miss Marnie Silcock, international representative from headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., who is here organizing a junior affiliate chapter, was a guest. Refreshments were served by the hostess from candlelighted tables decorated in keeping with the season and a social hour followed.

Mrs. Charles Brady of north of Marion was hostess when members of the Carpe Diem club met for their annual Christmas dinner and party Wednesday evening. The guests were seated at a long table decorated in Christmas motifs. Guests included Mrs. Cletus Murphy and daughter and Mrs. Orris Buyer of near LaRue. The group sang Christmas carols and Bible verses were given in response to roll call. Mrs. P. G. Shoots conducted the devotions. A program was in charge of Mrs. Rudolph Risch and opened with a group of piano numbers, "When Santa Claus Comes to Town," "White Christmas" and "Santa Claus' Express," by Mrs. O. C. Young.

A reading, "The Star of Bethlehem, the Star of Hope" by Mrs. Morris Philbrick, completed the program. A Christmas exchange revealed the names of Sunshine sisters and names were drawn for the coming year.

Members of the Home Service Corps, volunteer group of the Marion County Chapter of the American Red Cross, held their annual Christmas party last evening at the home of Mrs. H. L. Smith of 360 Franklin street. A potluck dinner was served, after which there was a business session in which the group discussed changes in policies regarding emergency furloughs for men overseas.

Weddings

Miss Elsie Mae Craft, daughter of Mrs. Laura Craft of 900 Bellefontaine avenue, became the bride of Jay Harold McGinnis, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. McGinnis of 129 Garden street in a double ring ceremony read Wednesday morning in the Wesley Methodist church with Rev. H. M. McAdow officiating. Only members of the immediate families were present.

For her wedding the bride chose a street length crepe dress of a raspberry shade with black accessories and wore a corsage of white camellias. Mrs. Robert L. McGinnis, sister-in-law of the groom, served as matron of honor. She was attired in a dress of sky blue crepe, patterned after the bride's gown. Her corsage was pink rosebuds. Robert McGinnis, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

The new Mrs. McGinnis was graduated from Harding High school in 1940 and has been employed in the office of the Osgood Co. Mr. McGinnis, recently discharged after 27 months overseas service with the Air Corps, was also graduated from Harding in 1940. For the present time the couple will make their home with the bridegroom's parents, following their return from a brief wedding trip. For her traveling costume Mrs. McGinnis chose an aqua blue wool suit.

FINED ON VET'S CHARGE

MARYSVILLE, Dec. 7—Philip Blumenschein, 55, of this city, was fined $20 and costs of $8.30 by Justice John C. Hartshorn when he pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery filed by Robert Asman, 25, a discharged war veteran, also of this city.

Christmas Season Music Featured by Junior Music Club

When the Junior Lecture-Recital club met Monday evening in the home of Alan Cleveland on South Prospect street, a program of music appropriate to the Christmas season was presented. Capt. J. A. Schufle of the Scioto Ordnance officer staff was a guest soloist and Mrs. Karl Schell, a guest, presented the study topic, "Christmas and Easter Music," and "The Oratorio." Carols were sung by the group. Alicia Zachman sang "He Shall Feed His Flock" from "The Messiah," Handel, and "Hail Ye Tyme of Holidayes," old English, Brandscombe, and Marjorie Wynd presented "Jesu Bambino," Yon. Both were accompanied by Mrs. J. F. Lacey. Capt. Schufle's recital included "Comfort Ye" and "Every Valley Shall Be Exalted," from "The Messiah," "Snowflakes," Cimara, and "Three Kings," Cornelius. During the business session roll call was answered with facts about the composers Handel and Bach. A Chinese tea scheduled for November, and postponed, was set for a date in the spring. Guests for the meeting and program included parents of the host, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Cleveland. Mrs. Cleveland served refreshments.

Mrs. Connie Spicer New Councilor of D. of A.

Mrs. Connie Spicer was chosen councilor with Miss Jane Spicer as assistant councilor of Paramount Council No. 37, Daughters of America, at a meeting Thursday night in the Odd Fellows hall.

Other officers elected by the council at that time for the coming year included: Mrs. Marie Goodrich, vice councilor; Mrs. Mildred Pickett, assistant vice councilor; Mrs. Mary Bollinger, recording secretary; Mrs. Jane Shappard, conductor; Mrs. Mayme Rank, warden; Mrs. Hazel Houser, inside sentinel; Mrs. Anna Hess, outside sentinel; Mrs. Leona Bishop, trustee.

Installation will be held at the first January meeting. Plans were made for the quarterly birthday dinner and Christmas exchange to be held at the last meeting in the month with Mrs. Virginia Egnor in charge of arrangements. Announcement was made that there will be a meeting of district past councilors in Shelby Saturday afternoon, Dec. 29.

Never Fail Club Meets with Mrs. John Ruth

Mrs. John Ruth of south of Marion entertained members of the Never Fail club Wednesday when the annual Christmas exchange party was held, following a potluck dinner. Program included two piano selections by Mrs. Beaver Bricker and a reading, "The Story of Santa Claus" by Mrs. Sperry Long. Contest awards were presented to Mrs. Baker, Mrs. F. M. Schaber and Mrs. Bentley. Guests were Mrs. Richard Taylor and Mrs. Leo Pfeiffer and daughter. The next meeting will be Jan. 9 with Mrs. Long of the Green Camp road.

Yule Party Planned by Elks Women's Club

When the Elks Women's clubs met Wednesday afternoon, plans were made for a Christmas party Dec. 19 at the club rooms and committees were appointed for a district meeting which is to be held in the local club rooms at noon Sunday. Cards were played. Mrs. Arthur Burchette and Mrs. H. L. Scott were hostesses. During the business session it was voted to make every other meeting an evening session. Meetings are held the first and third Wednesdays of each month. The new ruling will make the night meeting fall on the third Wednesday. The Christmas party will be held at 8 p. m. and a gift exchange will be featured. Hostesses appointed include Mrs. Scott and Mrs. B. R. Felt. Discussion was held on a party for the children of the Marion County Children's home Christmas eve. Award in contract went to Mrs. Grace Stone; in auction, to Mrs. Felt, and in euchre to Mrs. Laura Heilman.

SUGAR SHORTAGE LOOMS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7—Temporary sugar scarcities will develop in some sections after new ration stamps are validated January 1, OPA warned today. Sugar will be hardest to find on the east coast, which depends on Caribbean crops, OPA said. Individual consumer's sugar ration stamp 39 will be valid from January 1 to April 30. Sugar stamp 38 expires December 31.

Chorus of Lecture-Recital Club in Sunday Concert

THE annual Christmas musicale vesper service of the Marion Lecture-Recital club chorus will be presented, with guest artists, Sunday afternoon at 4 in First Presbyterian church.

Miss Mabel Zehner of Ashland, organist, and Mrs. Herbert Murphy of Kenton, violinist, will be the guest artists, while the chorus will present groups of numbers under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Edgar. Miss Jacqueline Loeffert will accompany Mrs. Murphy and Miss Rosaline Manzo is accompanist for the chorus. Mrs. H. T. Williams is program aid.

With early recognition of her musical talent, Miss Zehner, while in high school at Ashland, began training under Marie Spreng. She majored in piano at Mt. Union college conservatory of music, Alliance, O., continued studies at Chautauqua Lake, N. Y., went into intensive piano study with Franklyn Carnahan and the late William B. Colson in Cleveland, and attended Chicago Musical college, where she was graduated with a bachelor of music degree. Her study of organ was under Edwin Arthur Kraft of Cleveland, Arthur B. Jennings, organist of the University of Minnesota, and the late French organist, Joseph Bonnet.

Both a recitalist and teacher, Miss Zehner has served as organist and choir director of Trinity Lutheran church, Ashland; First Presbyterian church, New Castle, Pa.; and at present of First Presbyterian church, Mansfield. During recent years she has given organ recitals in many cities throughout the country.

Mrs. Murphy, a graduate of the Ohio State university school of music, played first violin in the O.S.U. symphony orchestra, and string quartet, and for a time played first violin in the Columbus Philharmonic orchestra.

The program will include invocation by the host pastor, Rev. Howard L. Olewiler; "The Shepherd's Christmas Song," Luvaas, and "I Wonder as I Wander," Niles-Horton, chorus; organ numbers, "Chromatic Fantasia," Louis Thiele, "Pax Vobiscum (Peace Be with You)" Garth Edmundson, "The Squirrel," Powell Weaver, "Sunshine-Toccata," Firmin Swinnen; Ave Maria," Bach-Gounod, chorus with obligato violin by Mrs. Murphy and incidental solos by Miss Mary Louise Cook and Miss Edgar. A chorus obligato will include Mrs. Clara Campbell, Mrs. W. J. Thomas, Mrs. Edwin Smith and Mrs. Scott Hassel.

Organ selections, "Christmas Evening," M. Mauro - Cottone, "Dance of the Candy Fairy," Tschaikowsky—Kraft, "Variations on a Noel," Marcel Dupre; violin numbers, "Nocturne," Chopin; "Andante from the Minor Concerto," Mendelssohn, and "Valse Bluette," Drigo; "I Heard a Forest Praying," Peter de Rose; "The Catalan Carol," Gibb, and "The Shepherd's Tune," Gustav Klemm, chorus; congregational singing of "Silent Night."

Church doors will be open for the program at 3:30. Ushers will include Mrs. Ralph Mills, Mrs. Leroy Shroats, Mrs. Virginia Wertz Garfield, and Miss Evelyn McCormick. A freewill offering will be received at the door following the musicale for the war service fund of the club. The offering will be received by Miss Mary Heininger, club philanthropic chairman; Miss Doris Emptage, finance chairman; Mrs. Mildred Wills, formerly in charge of music for hospitals; and Mrs. Stewart Vermillion, war service chairman. Mrs. Campbell is chorus president, and Mrs. A. G. Birch is president of the club.

Members of the chorus include: First soprano — Miss Dorothy Buckley, Mrs. Clara Campbell, Miss Mary Louise Cook, Miss Doris Emptage, Miss Molly Johnston, Mrs. R. D. Hancock, Mrs. Morris Kline, Miss Sophia Mack, Mrs. Evelyn Manter, Mrs. W. G. McPeck, Mrs. George Oborn, Mrs. Carter Patten, Mrs. F. J. Schill, Mrs. Leroy Schneider, Mrs. W. S. Sibberson, Miss Dorothy Stephenson, Mrs. Edwin Smith, Mrs. Esther Schlosser, Mrs. Wm. Thomas, Mrs. Ruth Thomas, Mrs. S. Secret Roosevelt Files Show Marshall Plea To Aid Britain

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7—Convelt's secret files yesterday a memorandum by Gen. George C. Marshall saying "Britain is reaching limit of usable manpower. We must supplement her forces."

The document bore no date, but Gerhard Gesell, counsel of the joint senate-house Pearl Harbor investigating committee, said it appeared to have been written in the summer of 1941, months before this country entered the war.

The memorandum said Marshall wanted to prepare task forces for air and naval bases in the British Isles and Ireland to "secure, when opportunity offers, additional bases encircling Germany."

The chief of staff's note, which bore marginal notations by Mr. Roosevelt, said it would be "disastrous" to reduce the size of the United States Army so that additional war material could be sent to Great Britain and Russia.

Lists Objectives

Marshall started off with a statement of "basic consideration, national policy," in which he listed "eventual defeat of Germany" as one of the objectives.

"Germany cannot be defeated by supply of munitions to friendly powers and air and naval operations alone," the memorandum said, adding: "Large ground forces will be required."

Marshall recommended rushing the build-up of air power in the Philippines "together with small increases in modern ground Army equipment and personnel to restrain Japan from advance into Malaya or eastern Siberia."

He said task forces should be prepared to hold bases in case Britain collapsed and "for prompt employment against Atlantic islands and Natal region of Brazil" if western hemisphere security was threatened. Marshall set out what he called "immediate requirements." Along the margin on this and the next page were notes in what Gesell said was the handwriting of President Roosevelt.

Note on Philippines

As an example, a notation beside a paragraph dealing with Philippine requirements said "12,000 additional."

The paragraph read:

"Philippines. Present garrison or enroute 31,000 (12,000 native troops). Critical situation. Japan wavering. Strong air and naval forces on her flank may deter her or wean her from Axis. If Japan moves forces in position to assist associated powers. No reduction possible, on the contrary reinforcements of about 12,000 troops, including air complements, in prospect. Philippine army in process of organization — 80,000 by Jan. 1, 1942."

Opposite a paragraph on Hawaii, a notation said: "O.K. Leave as is."

In this paragraph Marshall said: "Hawaii. Authorized and present 41,000. Naval installations (Kaneohe bay) being expanded, requiring additional defenses. Presence of fleet reduces threat of major attack. Reinforcements can be deferred as long as fleet remains in Pacific. Reinforcements must be available in United States to give fleet freedom of action."

The chief of staff presented a long series of arguments against any reduction in the size of the American forces, observing at one point: "Collapse of Russia, England, offensive tactics by Japan and belligerent attitude in Latin America are possibilities. We must prepare to meet these eventualities."

Must Have Contact

He told the President that to defeat Germany "We must come to grips with and annihilate the Germany military machine."

He argued that additional materials for the British and Russians could be obtained only by cutting back American requirements, adding that any such reduction "might result in fatal delay."

"The long view is essential to our interests," he declared. "In other words to shift our national objectives by the reduction of our Army at the present time might be disastrous.

"Certainly the momentary encouragement it would give the Russian and British government would be far outweighed by the positive indications it would give to the German government, that they need not fear an eventual onslaught of ground forces."

Another document from Mr. Roosevelt's secret files contained a pre-Pearl Harbor estimate that the island of Oahu "is believed to be the strongest fortress in the world."

But across the top of it, in what Gesell said was the handwriting of Mr. Roosevelt's aide the late Maj. Gen. E. Watson, was a scrawled notation "Modern planes have completely changed situation as to the defensibility."

The document was entitled "Aide Memoire — Defense of Hawaii." Its origin was not shown, but it bore a notation "came to file May 3, 1941)."

Sees Carrier Attack

The document said that "with adequate air defense, enemy carriers, naval escorts and transports will begin to come under air attack at a distance of approximately 750 miles." It added:

"This attack will increase in intensity until when within 200 miles of the objective the enemy forces will be subject to attack by all types of bombardment closely supported by our most modern pursuit."

The document said that "including the movement of aviation now in progress, Hawaii will be defended by 35 of our most modern Flying Fortresses, 35 medium range bombers, 13 light bombers, 150 pursuit of which 105 are of our most modern type."

In this sentence, before the figure 35, Gesell said Marshall had inked in an asterisk, keyed to this handwritten notation below:

"Due to make a mass flight from mainland to Hawaii May 20th. A number of this type of plane could be dispatched immediately if the situation gets critical."

The document concluded with this paragraph:

"In point of sequence, sabotage is first to be expected and may, within a very limited time, cause great damage. On this account and in order to assume strong control, it would be highly desirable to set up a military control of the islands prior to the likelihood of our involvement in the Far East."

OVER TOP IN BONDS

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Dec. 7—Hamilton county has topped its Victory Loan quota by more than $17,000,000. Members of the county war finance committee said yesterday that sales totaled more than $101,608,000.

MINK CAUGHT NEAR HERE

MARYSVILLE, Dec. 7—A silver mink valued at $20 has been trapped by Johnny Burns, 12-year-old nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knotts of the Marion road. Johnny, who lives with his uncle and aunt, started trapping this year. This is believed to be the first mink trapped in Union county this year and it is [illegible] a pre-Pearl Harbor estimate that the island of Oahu "is believed to be the strongest fortress in the world."

But across the top of it, in what Gesell said was the handwriting of Mr. Roosevelt's aide the late Maj. Gen. E. Watson, was a scrawled notation "Modern planes have completely changed situation as to the defensibility."

Merry Christmas Pie

MAGIC CRANBERRY PIE Christmas dinner climax . .

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Properly speaking, there should be plum pudding, several kinds of pie, ice cream and any other favorites your family longs for as the wind-up to Christmas dinner Most of us haven't time for making more than one dessert, but you could have at least three choices if you'd make the two easy pies suggested below, and add store-bought ice cream.

Magic Cranberry Pie

1 1/3 cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk, ¼ cup lemon juice, 1 cup cooked cranberries, drained, 2 egg yolks, 9-inch baked pie shell

Blend sweetened condensed milk, lemon juice cranberry pulp and egg yolks Pour into baked pie shell. Decorate with a pastry Christmas tree, delicately browned in the oven while you're baking the pie shell. Chill before serving

Squash Pie DeLuxe

1 box quick-frozen cooked squash, ¾ cup light brown sugar firmly packed, ¼ cup granulated sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon ginger, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, slightly beaten, 1½ cups milk, 2 teaspoons melted butter, ½ recipe pie crust.

Defrost squash Combine it with remaining ingredients in order given. Strain Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry rolled an eighth of an inch thick, allowing pastry to extend an inch beyond the edge Fold edge back to form standing rim and flute with fingers Fill with squash mixture Bake in hot oven (450 degrees) 20 minutes Decrease heat to 350 degrees and bake 30 minutes longer

Or how'd you like to make some mincemeat for the best pie of all?

Mincemeat

1 pound lean beef, ½ pound suet, 2 pounds tart apples, 2 pounds quinces, 1 cup cider, ½ cup brandy, ½ cup chopped citron, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, ½ teaspoon each of cloves, all-spice, mace and nutmeg (powdered), 1 pound currants 1½ pounds seedless raisins chopped, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup brown sugar, ½ cup molasses, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon salt, boiling water.

Cut beef in small pieces, combine with cut-up suet, cover with boiling water, and simmer, covered two hours Remove meat and suet and reserve one cup stock. Put meat, suet, apples (cored and peeled) and quinces through a food chopper and place in large kettle with one cup stock, raisins, currants citron, spices, sugars and molasses Simmer one hour, stirring occasionally to prevent burning Add cider, brandy and lemon juice and cook five minutes longer. Place in an earthenware jar, cover and store in a cool place This should be enough for three 9-inch pies

AIR FORCE DEPOT HERE TO RELEASE 13 EMPLOYES

Cut Personnel in Keeping with Air Force Orders.

The Middletown Air Technical Service Command, which includes the 838th specialized Army Air Force depot at the Scioto Ordnance Plant site announced today that 1,200 civilian employes of the command will be released this month

The reduction in personnel will mean the release of 13 employes of the depot here, the public relations department of the Middletown command reported

The releases are being made to comply with personnel allotment cuts ordered by the Army Air Forces Col David R Stinson, commander of the service command said at the Middletown, Pa., headquarters

More than half of the cut will be borne by AAF specialized depots under MATSC jurisdiction in five states, while the remainder concerns employes at Olmsted Field at Middletown, Pa.

This allotment reduction, which represents an annual payroll saving of $2,500,000 is in addition to an overall cut of 1,750 MATSC personnel announced last month

MATSC officials also pointed out that, in addition to cuts ordered by the AAF other workers may be discharged to make room for veterans returning to the jobs they held before entering the service

Prexies Seek 2nd Win From Tough Bexley Five Tonight

Usually Tricky Cagers from Downstate To Open Harding's Home Season at Edison.

The Bexley Blue Lions are in town tonight for a contest with Harding's Presidents at the Edison gym. This will be the first home game of the season for the locals. Harding will be out to try to keep their slate clean but will probably run into some tough opposition as Bexley can usually be counted on to have a tough and aggressive ball club.

In last week's game against Delaware, the Prexies looked very strong for the first game of the year. They also displayed a good brand of ball handling and shooting. It is hoped that they will be able to work together as nicely tonight.

As to Coach Bohyer's starting lineup, probably will be Dick Holt at center, Laurie Feaver and Dave Lee at forwards and the guards are again questionable. Since Don West's return Wednesday, Bohyer may start him at one of the guards and also use him some at center. Jim Riley and Henry Fields will be in there to fill in at the guards.

The junior varsity will also be after their second win tonight and their game will start at 7 p. m. with the varsity game one hour later.

Big Ten May Name Its Own Champions

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 7 — There will be no disputes for top honors in Western Conference football, basketball or baseball if Big Ten faculty representatives approve a recommendation of the league's athletic directors.

At the opening session of the conference's annual winter meeting yesterday, the directors recommended formal designation of champions in those three sports. Heretofore the Big Ten has allowed the press to select its major sports champions unofficially.

Formal recognition of the champions, if adopted, would be made on the basis of games won, lost, and tied, with tie games counting as a half game won and a half game lost.

In making their suggestion to the faculty representatives, the directors mentioned occasional "unfair" team comparisons in past conference races. In 1933, for example, Minnesota, which won only two games but tied four, was proclaimed by newspaper writers as football co-champion with Michigan, which had a record of five victories and one tie.

Hogan Doesn't Mind Tourney Back Seat

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 7 — Ben Hogan, the Hershey, Pa., pro, was like the backseat driver awaiting an operator's license as the $10,000 Miami Open golf tournament entered its second day today.

Hogan, a pre-tournament favorite, was "satisfied" with a 70 yesterday as bridegroom Chuck Rutan of Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich., shot a 68 to lead the field. Eight others were bunched at 69.

"Back here I don't have to bother about the spotlight being on me," declared golfdom's "mighty little atom," who weighs only 136 pounds.

Freddie Corcoran, PGA tournament manager, announced the pretty titian-haired young girl trailing Rutan was his bride of six weeks.

Ready to break from the pack any moment were Harold (Jug) McSpaden, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Toney Penna, Henry Picard, Fred Annon, George Payton, Ky Laffoon and Ben Yasko with 69's.

UNION CO. GAMES SET

MARYSVILLE, Dec. 7 — The following Union County Basketball league and non-league games are scheduled to be played this evening, it was announced by County Supt. Gale W. Baldwin:

*Allen at Milford Center, Dover at New California, *York at Magnetic Springs, Richwood at Urbana, North Lewisburg at Unionville Center, Broadway vs Alumni, and Byhalia at Raymond.
*League games.

Supt. Baldwin said he was not certain about the game being played between Byhalia and Raymond since the Byhalia school has been closed since Tuesday because of influenza and colds.

Cardinal Job Makes Dyer's Dreams Come True

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AP Newsfeatures

HOUSTON, Tex. — Personable Eddie Dyer, who developed a great pitching arm chunking rocks at swamp rabbits in his native Louisiana, lost it and found there was plenty left in baseball for a guy who loved the game, has realized his dreams.

Eddie was a good player until something happened to his left arm almost 20 years ago. Then he entered the ranks of the managers, also became a baseball executive. Now he's on the way to the majors as skipper of one of the top clubs of the game—the St. Louis Cardinals.

The black-haired, smiling fellow who, says President J. Alvin Gardner of the Texas league, is one of the best-known—and best-liked—men in this state, quit the game last year to enter the oil business. Now Sam Breadon, president of the Cardinals, has called him to take the place vacated by Billy Southworth, who left St. Louis for the managerial job with the Boston Braves.

Gave Him Choice

Breadon gave Dyer his choice of a two, three or five year contract but Eddie elected to take the two-year job.

"I may want to go elsewhere," he says. "I may want to return to the oil game or you may want to make a change, so two years will be the best."

But they're betting around Houston, where Dyer won his first athletic fame as a three-sport star at Rice Institute, that Eddie stays a lot longer. And, remembering the smooth teams he produced as manager of the Houston Buffs of the Texas league, they figure he'll also be a big success as a major league manager.

A native of Morgan City, the 45-year-old Dyer had to learn the swamp land to keep up with his older brothers.

He started in the sandlots of the Louisiana city. In the years 1918-19-20-21 he was one of the greatest athletes of the Southwest Conference. A born leader, he captained both the baseball and football teams in his senior year at Rice. He also was a track man.

Signed by Rickey

He was signed by Branch Rickey on the recommendation of Charley Barrett, late scout of the Cardinals and moved directly to the big league club from the Rice campus. He remained with the Cardinals most of the 1922 season and was sent out to Syracuse of the International League as a pitcher-outfielder.

The following year found Dyer ripping the ball all over the lot in spring training and he was optioned to the Houston Buffs as an outfielder. But upon reporting here Dyer did everything well except hit, so he requested to return to pitching. The Buffs were well fortified with hurlers, however, so Eddie moved to Wichita Falls where he pitched well enough to have the Cardinals recall him before the end of the season.

He was with St. Louis in 1924 and 1925, then moved to Syracuse for a part of the 1926 season before being recalled again by the Cards. The Cardinals were deep in hurling strength and Eddie was sent back to the International League in order to get in a regular turn. He won seven straight for Syracuse in 1927, and then something happened to that left arm. Dyer was through as a player.

EDDIE DYER
Returns With Discoveries

Becomes Manager

Eddie became a manager and won two pennants at Springfield, Mo., won the first-half pennant at Greensboro, N. C., before moving on to Elmira to pull the last-place club into the first division of the New York-Penn League before the season closed. Dyer was at Huntington, W. Va., in 1934, and here he was both manager and vice president, his first front-office job. He was president-manager at Columbus, Ga., in 1936 and won the South Atlantic League pennant. He was president of the Asheville club of the Piedmont League in 1937 where another championship was added to his list.

In 1938 Eddie took over supervision of 14 Class B, C and D clubs in the south and southwest for the Cardinals, and in 1939 moved to Houston to manage the Buffs. He also was vice president of the club. For three straight years the Buffs won the straightaway race and came through in 1940 in the Shaughnessy play-off.

He moved back into AA competition in 1942 as manager and vice president of the Columbus club of the American Association and the Red Birds toppled Syracuse for the Little World Series. Dyer was awarded the minor league manager of the year trophy by The Sporting News.

Goes Into Business

Dyer had supervision of all Cardinal-owned AA clubs in 1943 and 1944, but in July of the latter year he decided to enter the oil business. But even in leaving the Cardinal organization, Dyer couldn't get completely away from baseball. He agreed to supervise the Cardinal properties here while the Texas League was suspended because of the war.

Going to the Cardinals will be a homecoming for Dyer. Many of the boys he helped start in the game are with St. Louis.

"I aim to follow the same plan in managing the Cardinals as I did the Houston Buffs," says Eddie.

That his friends declare will mean a hustling, fighting ball club.

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 7—The minor league convention session yesterday was held in the hotel's "Hall of Mirrors" — and apparently that's how the business was transacted—by mirrors . . . there's no other reasonable explanation of how the "AA" leagues became "AAA," the A-1 loops climbed up to "AA" and at least one B circuit, the Sally, moved into "A." The Piedmont is expected to duplicate that advance today . . . We'd hate to trust those baseball guys in a spelling bee . . . That business for myself" that Zeke Bonura has been talking about is ownership of the Beaumont Texas league club . . . After what happened to Happy Chandler on the convention floor yesterday when he tried to lay down the law, it's no wonder the commissioner went to Muncie, Ind., and talked about atomic bombs . . . he's been hit by two of them.

Quote, Unquote

Carl Hubbell, Giants' farm boss: "The Class 'D' managers are the men who should be in baseball's hall of fame. They have the toughest job in baseball." (Ed's note: Carl never tried to cover all the doings at one of these conventions.)

• • •

One-Minute Sports Page

Sam Breadon, who ought to know, claims that Manager Eddie Dyer is the toughest man who ever worked in the Cardinals' organization. "He'd be leading his league by 18 games," Sam explains, "and if one player got hurt Eddie would come screaming for help, claiming he was about to lose the pennant." . . . The Middle Atlantic league's Elmer Daily is baseball's oldest league president in point of service with his 22nd term coming up this year . . . There's one guy who probably could teach Happy Chandler something about politics . . . The 1946 Golden Gloves tournaments will bar "amateur" boxers who have been fighting five years or more from competing against the green kids who make up most of the field.

KENTON SEEKS TROPHY

KENTON, Dec. 7—In the basketball game to be played here Friday evening between Kenton and St. Marys high schools the traveling trophy of the Western Ohio Buckeye league is at stake. St. Marys won the trophy during the football season and according to the rules governing the possession of the trophy the first basketball team to defeat St. Marys will hold the trophy until they are in turn defeated in league play.

WRIGHT FIELD RATED OHIO'S TEAM TO BEAT

Get Win No. 4; B-W, Kent State on Top.

By The Associated Press

Wright Field's Kittyhawks stood out today as the team to beat in Ohio college basketball circles.

The soldier quintet, which holds victories over two Western conference teams — Ohio State and Illinois — thus far chalked up its fourth straight victory of the season last night, drubbing Southern Illinois Normal, 71 to 56, at Carbondale, Ill.

Baldwin - Wallace's Yellow Jackets also kept their record clean turning in their third straight win at the expense of John Carroll. The score was 56 to 38.

In other games last night, Kent State shellacked Heidelberg, 74 to 42, in the opening Ohio Conference tilt for both teams. Toledo opened a 24 game schedule by edging Findlay, 40 to 32, and Wooster downed Crile Hospital, 41 to 31. It was Wooster's second win.

The Kittyhawk's big guns at Carbondale were Center John Mahnken and Dwight "Dike" Eddleman, who caged 27 and 24 points, respectively.

Baldwin-Wallace also sported a double-barrelled offense. Freshman Dick Selzo caged 15 points, two more than credited to veteran guard Dick Smith.

Kent State topped its previous single game scoring mark by two points in trouncing Heidelberg. Guard Bill Sudeck's 24 points for Kent States took honors.

17 Gridders at Galion Are Awarded Letters

Special to The Star

GALION, Dec. 7 — Seventeen players and five managers received letters at the annual Galion High school football team banquet Thursday at the Senior High school when Trevor Rees, freshman football coach at Ohio State university, was guest speaker.

There were 120 present for the banquet which was served at 6:30 o'clock in the gymnasium by the Senior High P.-T. A.

M. A. Povenmire, superintendent of schools, was toastmaster.

Moving pictures of the Ohio State-Northwestern football game were shown. Coach Robert Sheffer presented letters to the following players: Lynn Haskett, Dick Logan, Dick Eicher, Harvey Coulter, Art Thoman, Don Pugh, Leo Tuscan, Joe McGuire, Dick Britt, Joe McManes, Harold Ramsey, Jack Baer, Bill Dorian, John Vossers, George Stoner, Angelo Farina and Bill Monroe. Managers who received letters were George Seeds, John Yochem, Bob Neff, Arthur O'Leary and Howard Decker.

Assistant coaches who were presented were Ed Hixson of senior high, Howard Deppen, junior high, and B. W. Myers, elementary.

TIGERS SIGN 2 COACHES

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 7—The Detroit Tigers, who won baseball's world championship last year with only one coach, signed two more today, one of whom was Tommy Bridges, the hard-working little right hand pitcher who finally has called it a career. The other is Frank Shellenbach, former Pacific Coast league manager and more recently scout for the St. Louis Browns and Boston Red Sox.

The price of West African cocoa is determined in New York because the United States is the largest buyer.

Can't Beat Those Chinese

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA—Add unbeaten football teams—the Yu-Pin Chinese Catholic club.

Believed to be the only all-Chinese squad in the world, the players range from 13 to 17 years in age and almost all weigh less than 120 pounds. Some of their stars are pictured above.

The boys are coached by the Rev. William Kavanagh, rector of Holy Redeemer Chinese school. The Yu-Pins were undefeated in 12 games this season.

The team is using the "T" formation for their first time since it was organized in 1942.

"We have to depend upon this formation to break our backs away as speedily as possible," says the Rev. Kavanagh.

"Our players are light but once in the clear they are hard to stop."

The team has been nicknamed "jingle bells" by its girl rooters because of the red and green uniforms, purchased through benefits and social affairs held in the school auditorium.

Heaviest player on the squad of less than 20 is Gene Lee who tips the scale at 130. He is fullback.

The team is sparkplugged by quarterback Harry Louie, captain and oldest player on the squad. He is 17.

The only two relatives are William and Gett Mark, although many of the players have the same surname.

They chose the Yu-Pin name in honor of the Most Rev. Paul Yu-Pin, bishop of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

In order to confuse opponents, quarterback Louie sometimes calls signals in Chinese.

Pacific Coast Bid Faces Minors at Final Sessions

By HAROLD HARRISON
AP Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 7—The National Association of Professional Baseball leagues — the minors to most of us — went into its final sessions today with the ideas still before them that the Pacific Coast league might become a major loop and that there should be no more bonuses for the signing of players.

These two major items were pending after a day of business meetings and lobby sitting that produced a slap at Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler and a re-shuffling of league alignments.

Makes Plea

Chandler came to town Wednesday, and dashed away yesterday afternoon to fill a speaking date at Muncie, Ind., after he had urged the minors not to pass any legislation "offensive and obnoxious to me personally."

The minors refused to change their player bonus laws which Chandler had declared "unfair and illegal," and decided to wait until today to act on another proposal which would ban all bonuses for the signing of players.

Also adopted was a proviso that no major-minor league rule should be construed as being detrimental to baseball, thus taking from Chandler a power he had inherited from the late Judge K. M. Landis.

This situation is expected to furnish some fireworks at next week's major league meeting in Chicago when revision of the major - minor league agreement comes up.

Also left over until today was the Pacific Coast league's idea that it become a major league.

Approve Changes

The minors approved an advance of the American Association, the International and Pacific Coast leagues to a new class of AAA. The Southern Association already had decided to go into Class AA. Then the Texas league decided it wanted to do the same thing and that was approved. Next came the South Atlantic league which obtained approval to go from Class B to Class A and today it was reported the Piedmont league wanted to make the same jump.

The advancement of the three current Class AA leagues to Class AAA had only two opposing votes—from the Southern Association and the Texas league.

The Pacific Coast league was given the right to withdraw from the minors organization if it gets the blessings of the majors next week.

SELECTS GIVEN MARKET FAVOR

Rails, Aircraft, Coppers Advance But Many Other Leaders Take Spill.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 7—Rails, aircrafts and coppers edged forward in today's stock market although profit cashing elsewhere threw many leaders for minor declines.

Comforting to [illegible] was the [illegible] dealing slowed appreciably after the opening when offerings began to appear. The pace quickened a bit when the carriers attracted [illegible]. Trends were slightly uneven near the fourth hour.

General Motors, Packard and Shamrock Oil touched highs for the move. Supported were Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Northern Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, M-K-T, Boeing, United Aircraft, Anaconda, Kennecott, Du Pont, Johns-Manville and International Harvester. Laggards included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, American Telephone, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Westinghouse, Union Carbide and J. C. Penney.

HURLEY

General MacArthur at Tokyo, but Byrnes said "men who have rendered loyal service to the government cannot be dismissed and their reputations ought not to be destroyed on the basis of suspicions entertained by any individual."

The documents Byrnes referred to were a telegram to the state department from Atcheson on February 28, 1945 and a memorandum from Service on October 10, 1944. Byrnes said Hurley relied most strongly on these two messages for support of his charges against Atcheson and Service.

Byrnes entirely defended the propriety of both communications.

He said Atcheson sent his telegram recommending "a readjustment of our immediate strategy" in China nine days after Hurley had left the Chungking embassy to return to Washington. He said Atcheson proposed that the subject of his message be taken up with Hurley and with General Wedemeyer, then U. S. commander in China, while they were in Washington.

Sees No Run-Around

"There is nothing to indicate that he (Atcheson) sought to circumvent his superior in making this report and recommendation," Byrnes said.

Byrnes said the October 1944 memorandum from Service was "written in forceful language" and recommended a basic change in the U. S. policy toward the central government of China. Byrnes did not particularize, but asserted the policy then and now was to support the central government.

The Service memorandum was addressed to Gen. Joseph Stilwell, Wedemeyer's predecessor as U. S. commander in China, and it was also given to the U. S. embassy in Chungking.

Byrnes remarked that at this particular time Hurley was not the U. S. ambassador to China but the personal representative of President there, and hence he was not in charge of the embassy staff. Also, Service was responsible only to Gen. Stilwell.

Not Agreed With

Byrnes said that when the embassy forwarded the Service memorandum to Washington it attached its own observation that Service was only one political observer and when the memorandum passed through the division of Chinese affairs in the state department, the officers there stated many of Service's conclusions were "incorrect."

Byrnes, regarding U. S. support for the government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, said:

"We also believe that it must be broadened to include the representatives of those large and well-organized groups who are now without any voice in the government of China."

the routine of previous Sunday. I went riding.

"I must have ridden later than 8:30.

"While I was taking my shower, word came to me that Col. (R. S.) Bratton had something very important and wished to come out to Fort Myer. I told him I was coming to the war department directly.

"My shower probably took 10 minutes. On my arrival there, Bratton handed me these intercepts. When I reached the end, and it was a long message, some of which I read twice, on the next sheet was the 1 o'clock message.

Sees Importance

"That of course was an indication to me of some very definite action — 1 o'clock on a Sunday in Washington, involving the secretary of state was very unusual.

"I called Stark and he said he had seen it.

"I proposed messages to the Pacific commanders. Stark felt we might confuse them. I hung up the White House telephone and wrote out a message in long hand. I had thought that Stark called me back but on checking I find now that I called him back. The effect of our conversation was then that he wished me to add to my messages 'Show this to your Naval officers.'

"There was some talk of typing the message but the decision was that there was no time to type it. Bratton took the messages and I asked him about the time involved in getting them off. I sent him back for estimates and I sent him and Col. Bundy back a second time to make sure."

A secret meeting of the committee delayed for half an hour the resumption of General Marshall's story of the last hours before this country was plunged into war four years ago.

Rep. Keefe (R-Wis), told reporters the session dealt with the admission of certain evidence. He said it was decided the evidence should be entered in its entirety.

May Concern Dewey

He did not elaborate but there was one report the evidence under consideration was correspondence between Marshall and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, 1944 Republican nominee for president.

Later, Chairman Barkley (D-Ky) said the discussion was about the letter Marshall sent to Gov. Dewey urging him not to disclose during his campaign that the U. S. had cracked Japanese codes before the Pearl Harbor attack. Dewey complied.

Barkley said that exchange would be brought up in later testimony.

It previously had been reported Dewey withheld from publication, at Marshall's request, information showing the United States was decoding secret Japanese messages.

Disputes Evidence

Marshall disputed previous testimony before the committee and the Army board of inquiry that he telephone the warning message to General Douglas MacArthur in the Philippines.

"I did not telephone anywhere," he said.

Marshall also said he gave no instructions on the method of sending the messages, that it was the business of the message center to get them out "by the most expeditious" means.

He said he did not know until long afterward that the message to Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short, Army commander at Pearl Harbor, went to San Francisco by Western Union and thence by RCA cable to Hawaii.

Committee Counsel William Mitchell asked whether the Army staff was set up so that if Marshall could not be reached, some other officer who knew the contents of the decoded messages could have sent a warning.

Marshall listed Secretarly of War Stimson and Lt. Gen. Leonard T. Gerow, head of the war plans division.

Gen. Marshall's task, on his second day of testimony, was cut out for him last August when an Army inquiry board declared the wartime chief of staff failed:

"To get to General (Walter C.) Short on the evening of Dec. 6th and the early morning of Dec. 7th, the critical information indicating an almost immediate break with Japan, although there was ample time to have accomplished this."

Short was the commanding general at Pearl Harbor. The "critical information" was an intercepted final message Tokyo sent its "peace envoys" here with instructions to deliver it to the state department at 1 p. m. Washington time.

That was the hour the Japanese attacked.

Had Equipment

Yesterday when Marshall testified the committee was told:

That Marshall believes the Army at Hawaii was well enough equipped to have resisted the attack successfully.

That alertness there, in his opinion, might have turned the Japanese gamble into a lose-all proposition which would have upset their whole basket of war plans.

An alert ordered for the Army in Hawaii on June 17, 1940, issued because the war department had reason to fear a surprise raid then.

Marshall had "no recollection" of a Nov. 28 message from General Short saying Hawaii had been put simply on a "sabotage alert." Short had been told the day before of imminent danger and "to undertake such reconnaissance and other measures as you deem necessary." (The Army board said Marshall should have known that Short had misunderstood his warning.)

Yamashita Calm, Protests Innocence

MANILA, Dec. 7—Outwardly calm, Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita was taken to New Bilibid prison under armed guard today to await formal review of his death penalty—but first he told the world "my conscience is clear."

Back in his quarters after hearing sentence pronounced, the doomed Japanese commander impassively smoked a cigaret.

Earlier Lt. Gen. Akira Muto, his chief of staff, had burst out: "Why must they hang us? Why can't they shoot us like true soldiers?" Yamashita made no reply. He was smiling as he entered the cell.

"I told the military commission that I never ordered, authorized or condoned commission of crimes by my troops," he said in a statement as he sat, stiff backed, awaiting transfer to New Bilibid.

"From the conclusion of the military commission, as read to me by its president, I see that the commission itself has recognized this."

Chiang's Soldiers Looked Good but Not To Jap Factory Boss

By HAL BOYLE
AP Feature Writer

GHINHSIEN, Manchuria — It was two degrees above zero the morning we accompanied Gen. Tu Yu-Ming, commander of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's North China armies, on an inspection tour of this railroad center, recently retaken from Chinese Communists.

His bodyguards looked like walking quilts in their cotton-padded yellow-green uniforms and wrap around leggings. Many had only light gloves and thin canvas slippers to protect their hands and feet from the bitter December wind.

Hal Boyle

These Nationalist troops were brought up in American ships from South China. They feel as out of place in Manchuria as a Florida cracker on guard duty in Montana during a blizzard. They are well drilled and disciplined and they know how to handle the American [illegible] field rifles.

We left [illegible] in the modern Japanese [illegible] administration building after a heavy breakfast of [illegible], tea and half raw veal stew.

Highly Regarded

Tu, a close friend of Chiang Kai-shek, [illegible] looking, shrewd and friendly, and American observers have a high opinion of his military ability.

We inspected a Japanese army supply depot which Yu said had been looted and set afire by Chinese Communists, the second largest cotton-spinning mill in Manchuria, and a Japanese airport. Nationalist troops had repaired minor damage to the airport, and 11 Chinese-pilot American C-46 cargo planes landed with more than 20 tons of small arms ammunition.

At the great eastern cotton-spinning mill hundreds of small boys and girls were threading machines in the vast plant, which is now resuming operation with one-fifth of its former force of 4,000 employes. Because they have no one of his technical skill to replace him the Chinese have retained the Japanese manager Shigemitsu Suzuki.

Gets Wrong Answer

Professor Yu Hsih-Chung, political and economic advisor to Tu, became angry when in response to his query "Are you are we treated [illegible] Suzuki [illegible]

"Very [illegible] keep your soldiers [illegible] at night and [illegible] girls."

"You have no right [illegible]" shouted Yu.

"I know [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] of you."

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

FAITH'S eyes were like twin starts in her piquant face—I quoted the old cliche to myself—as I watched her draw away from Mary's encircling arms and take a position of attention as if she were saluting a flag

"Cross my heart hope to die" she said with the accompanying gestures "I'll never breathe a word to Granzie But may I tell the boys?"

I knew that she had ....ed into this .... of rapture to ... Christmas secrets are most ... thing to her But I also ... that her pleasure in anything ... she ... if she could not ... elder brother ... cousin R... Mary ... brother

Mary spread her hands helplessly to me

"I think this is one project which will have to be carried out in entirety" she said "But I'm turning it over to you now

You have done a splendid job so far" I assured her "and I'll take over In the meantime, please as unobtrusively as possible wrap up exhibits A and B"—I tipped my head slightly toward the photographs—"lip them into the dresser drawer turn the key and keep it for me Later we'll get together on them"

"What's A and B?" Faith demanded, her eyes widening

Nothing Important

"Nothing important" I answered with apparent carelessness "just something I wanted Cousin Mary to do for me Now pay attention ... while I tell you about keeping this secret"

She fixed her eyes on mine and I knew that I must keep them riveted there while Mary was busy with the photographs

"We'll talk first about telling the boys" I said "You may tell them when we get back home to the farm but until then I don't want them to know anything about this Christmas secret for Granzie"

Her face clouded then cleared and her eyes twinkled as they looked up into mine

"I was going to ask why," she said, "but I guess for just once it will be fun to have a secret all by myself that they don't know about

Hurried Amendment

"I don't mean it would be nice to keep it from them all the time" she amended hurriedly, "but just for a few days it will be lots of fun We will be going back home pretty soon, won't we?" she added eagerly

"You won't be going as soon as the boys" I told her and then as her face fell, administered the unfailing stimulant

"You see Daddy can't go home for a while because he can't walk, and we thought it would be nice for you and Granzie to stay here in the hotel with him while he is so lonely"

Her little face fairly shone with delight as I finished

"Oh that's just scrumptious!" she exclaimed then with a sudden jump back to the subject at issue she reiterated the prohibition I had just given her

"And I mustn't say anything to the boys until I get back there?" she asked

Not a Word

"Not a word" I said solemnly "and—listen carefully, darling—you mustn't say anthing about this Christmas secret for Granzie to anybody, not Granzie, of course, nor Daddy, nor Aunt Katharine nor Uncle Jack, nor Cousin Noel nor Grandpa, nor the boys"

"I think you've boxed the compass," Mary commented with a grin, as she turned from the dresser, palming the key

"I have to" I retorted and then turned again to my small daughter

"Do you understand Faith, that you mustn't say anything about this secret to anybody? Especially you mustn't say you saw any photographs"

"I won't" she promised fervently, and taking her by the hand, and with Mary following close behind me, we went back into the sitting room

"Well you sure have had a long session!" Dicky commented "That must have been a whale of a tear in your dress Or have you all been talking secrets?"

"Oh, Mummie!" Faith wailed wildly "Daddy knows about the secret already!"

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN M D.

Pain and Swelling

The term fistula means pipe or tube An anal fistula is one in which there is an opening from the last part of the bowel to the external surface Such a fistula may occur at any age

It is now generally accepted that the majority of fistulae start as an infection deep in the lining membrane of the lower bowel This infection produces an abscess in the tissues The infection continues and when it clears up it leaves the fistula tract

According to Doctor Paul M Vickers of Oklahoma City there are a number of things which may contribute to the infection which starts the fistula Injury, such as may come from enema tips may be a factor Also the bowel may be injured by a small piece of bone or other hard substance which is swallowed Irritating chemicals used for washing out the lower bowel may be a cause Then, too there are certain infections of the rectum and anus such as those due to tuberculosis which may be followed by the fistula formation

The early symptoms of fistula consist of pain and swelling produced by the abscess The abscess however may break through and drain to the outside whereupon the pain will clear up but the draining continues In occasional instances the drainage may stop and the whole condition may appear to be healed up but as a general rule a recurrence takes place later on

In order to make a diagnosis of fistula an examination by a physician is necessary

The only treatment which apparently is successful is an operation In carrying out this operation it is necessary to find the original opening in the bowel and to trace its connections with whatever fistulae may be present The various fistulae are cut open so that the wound may heal from within outward.

Fistulae produced by tuberculosis seem to respond to the surgical treatment as do those caused by other types of infection If the fistula is associated with the formation of ulcers in the lower bowel there should be no attempt at operation until the bowel disorder has been cleared up

3 Young Men With Formula Blow Bubble Into Big Business

By RALPH SPRINKLE
Associated Press Writer

CHARLOTTE, N. C. — Three young men with a formula have ... bubble up into big business.

... working night and day ... the current bubble-blowing ... and from young and old ... it is sweeping this nation ... Canada, and even bringing ... from points south of the ...

... three young men, Donald ... 25, Hubert B. Jerman, ... James T. Duckworth, 29 ... ers as business executives ... judged — call their solution "Rainbow Bubbles."

... a local dyestuff technician ... started working nights in his ... last spring, aiming to ... lowcost bubble solution ... little daughters. Unknown ... Barnes and Duckworth ... working on a bubble solution ... Duckworth's garage. By the ... part of last June, Jerman ... arrived at his formula and ... few local sales; about the ... time Barnes, the only graduate ... chemist of the group, and ... were scratching the ... drug store novelty trade.

Eventually, they learned of ... other's off-duty experiments. Jerman, with a formula calling for ... ingredients, offered it to Barnes and Duckworth, whose formula called for hard-to-find ingredients. The upshot was a partnership. They each put in $150, and went to work in Jerman's garage "because it had lights."

PRETTY BUBBLES in the air.

* * *

Last Fourth of July they gave their bubble solution a trial run at Myrtle Beach, S. C., and disposed of 576 bottles in a little over four hours. They hustled back to Charlotte, established their first "factory" in Jerman's garage, mixed the solution in barrels, agitated with an old garden rake, and filled hand-labeled bottles from barrel spigots.

Then Joe O. Scott, salesman, promoter and former business manager for his movie actor brother Randolph Scott, offered to sell the product. The bubble experts had landed their first big order with a local department store chain.

Under Scott's promotion, the bubbles took Atlanta by frontal assault, swept into Manhattan and virtual nationwide demand via Woolworth's.

Now the bubble business, expanded from the garage to quarters 50 times larger, employs a business personnel of 110, and production has jumped from 600 bottles a day to between 75,000 and 100,000 in less than six months. Only this fall did Barnes, Duckworth and Jerman decide to give up their regular jobs to take over fulltime operation of their mushrooming bubble business.

ATOMIC SECRETS

NO. 1—PEEWEE UNIVERSE

AP Newsfeatures

LIKE our solar system, an atom is made up of a central sun (nucleus) around which one or more planets (electrons) rotate. Protons (positive electric charges) in the nucleus hold electrons (negative electrically) from flying out of orbits.

The number of protons in natural atoms range from 1 to 92 and determine what the substance is: gold, lead, uranium, etc. A nucleus also contains neutrons, which have neither a positive nor negative electrical charge. But keep your eye on the neutron. They are the key to the mystery of the atomic universes which are so small that millions of them are needed to make a speck of matter.

Better than X-70?

...who's kidding!

There IS no better at regular price!

YEARS AGO Standard Oil pledged that Sohio X-70 would not be surpassed . . . that Ohio motorists would never find a finer gasoline at regular price.

Since then, as improvements in motor fuels have been made, Sohio has set the pace . . . and kept the pledge.

Thus improvements born of Sohio's wartime work with super-octane aviation fuels make possible the immense concentration of power that's yours in every gallon of today's Sohio X-70.

Matter of fact, to make sure Sohio customers keep on getting top performance from their cars, Standard Oil laboratories every day are making quality tests of all leading gasoline brands. These tests PROVE that SOHIO X-70 is unsurpassed at its price!

Mrs. Christman, who was Miss Lois Bending before her marriage, formerly lived in Marion and was employed as a secretary in the offices of A. W. Kette, insurance, and Attorney George T. Geran. She was a member of the Central Methodist church in Mansfield. The husband and sister are the only close relatives surviving.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Finefrock funeral home in Mansfield, with Rev. J. Frank Stewart of the Central Methodist church officiating. Burial will be made in the Caledonia cemetery.

Line Forms Quickly As Nylons Appear at Marion Store

The line forms to the right, ladies! And gentlemen, too, if you please, for there were men in the lineup for the sale of nylons at the Frank Bros. Co. store when business opened at noon today.

The first sale of nylons here since this particular material went to war, the news spread swiftly, and nylon-hungry femmes and farsighted men with Christmas in mind, stood in line for their turn to purchase this choice bit of apparel. Husbands shopping with their wives were pressed into service to get that extra pair.

The sale lasted about one hour and the complete stock of approximately 13 dozen pairs were passed out over the counter. News that the hosiery was on sale spread through the streets by word of mouth and the line formed in a few minutes after the store opened at noon. By 1 p. m. the supply was gone.

"It was the slickest and most orderly sale I ever experienced," Mrs. Daisy Van Buskirk, head of the department, said, when it was all over. "There was no pushing and crowding, and only once did I have to ask anyone to go to the end of the line and await their turn."

When the last of the nylons was sold there still were many in the line which extended into the street and down the basement steps.

Doctor Paints Outdoor Scenes in Comfort of His Own Home

Dr. Spaeth demonstrates his painting technique to his daughter Barbara.

* * *

Associated Press Newsfeatures

PHILADELPHIA—Dr. William S. Spaeth's hobby is landscape painting but he's too busy to search hill and vale for proper subjects.

Instead he brings the woodland scenes into his living room where he paints in comfort and without light problems.

The busy osteopath physician takes color photographs in his leisure. Then at home he projects the films upon a screen by means of a lantern slide, and transfers them to canvasses with his brush, oil and water colors.

"Painting landscapes has other problems beside just time," says Dr. Spaeth. "You see, many times you've got to have just the right kind of light to produce the best results.

"Artists sometimes have to make several trips to the same spot in order to do a good job. I found that was impossible for me but painting is a great hobby of mine, so I had to find a way to do it."

He became interested in painting in 1937 when he tried to decorate a "for rent" sign with a picture of his house. The results were far from satisfactory and he sought the advice of a neighbor, Francis Copeland, instructor at the Industrial School of Arts.

Dr. Spaeth is enthusiastic about his lantern slide painting.

"And if you don't think it is convenient, listen to this. Last July, with the mercury creeping toward 100, I sat comfortably in my room and painted a wintry blizzard scene that I had photographed when it was six degrees below zero."

Revival at Beech To Close Sunday

Special to The Star

BEECH—Revival services will continue each night this week at 7:45 at the Rural Salem Evangelical church. Rev. E. T. Shepard of Benton Ridge is the Evangelist and Rev. W. B. Smith is the pastor. Misses Helen Wheeler and Gertrude Grau students of Cleveland Bible college will be present Friday and Saturday nights and both services Sunday. The services will close Sunday night.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Remember Pearl Harbor

ONE of the consequences of the attack at Pearl Harbor four years ago is the investigation now beginning to reach the hard rock of the facts buried in the wreckage. The American people have taken the admonition to remember Pearl Harbor literally.

They sense that it was a climax in a chapter of their national affairs which was broken off abruptly by the beginning of the war. After Pearl Harbor, nothing was the same as it had been before. Many trends were suspended, many events put to one side. Now, with the war over, there is a deep curiosity about all these things. Pearl Harbor is the starting place of the inevitable investigation that follows war; the people cannot close the record until their minds are satisfied.

Whatever difference of opinion there may be over details, the bulk of evidence points to one indisputable fact: the United States invited the tragedy that befell it on Dec. 7, 1941. Our military affairs in the Pacific had been handled ineptly. The nation is lucky that it survived the catastrophe it was so poorly prepared to withstand. The cost of recovery, in life, money and time, is incalculable. Japan came dangerously close to making America win at too great a price.

Pearl Harbor must be remembered for more reasons than one. We remembered it as we worked to avenge the damage it wrought. We are remembering it as we unearth the concealed facts of the catastrophe. But most of all Pearl Harbor must be remembered as a warning that nations which grow careless in the terms of their own security can expect to pay the consequences. Japan has been made to pay for its treachery, but the United States is still trying to find out who was responsible for its own carelessness.

Up and Down the Hill

If Philip Murray's haymaker at the Truman administration means the CIO president is giving up that organization's drive to take over the moribund Democratic party, labor history is being made.

If the haymaker is an invitation to vote-scared Democratic strategists to start appeasement on a 24-hour-a-day schedule—and the politicians accept it—another kind of history is being made that has nothing to do with the labor movement but much to do with the phenomenon of minority dictatorship.

In either case, the question is whether or not Mr. Murray can march his labor organization up and down the hill at will. When John L. Lewis got peeved at Mr. Truman's predecessor and ordered his U. M. W. to shift allegiance to Wendell Willkie, the shift didn't come off. However, Mr. Murray is not ordering a transfer of allegiance, but only a withdrawal.

That is, of course, the obvious weakness in his strategy; he has no line of retreat. Unless it is his intent to call off the C. I. O. campaign for political power entirely, he has no alternative, except to organize a new political party. That is always a tempting possibility, but up to now it always has been a disastrous experiment.

Assuming that Mr. Murray has figured out the political complications of his renunciation of the Truman administration, there still is the problem of public repercussions. Not only Mr. Murray but other spokesmen for organized labor are significantly close to saying that they now claim the sole right to judge what is right and proper for business, government and the general public, as well as for their own organizations.

When Mr. Murray says his C. I. O. is going to mobilize its entire membership and the American people to defeat Mr. Truman's relatively mild proposal for legislation to increase organized labor's responsibility for work stoppages, he covers a lot of ground. The C. I. O. does not speak for the American people.

Samuel Gompers learned that labor leaders in America do best when they stick to the needs of their members—better wages, better working conditions, a better life. Politics, he realized, is for politicians. Political parties are useful for helping working people. When working people try to become political parties, however, they fail.

Mr. Murray, of course, knows all about Samuel Gompers. Perhaps he has realized belatedly that the Democratic party was devoted to C. I. O. votes, never to the C. I. O. crede of labor union dictatorship.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7—An overabundance of misinformation about American foreign policy appears avidly in the daily press. It originates now and formerly in the thoughts of the left-wing (meaning New Deal) groups and is designed to break the Truman-Byrnes policy in China, Iran, Europe and elsewhere in favor of Russia—or make the policy unpopular so it cannot be firmly carried forward.

A lot of Americans who are neither left-wingers nor commies, are thus gradually being influenced in their thinking, particularly as to China.

The Hurley testimony that a state department official actually advocated arming the Communists against our war ally Chiang Kai-shek has current counterparts.

A few pickets proclaiming themselves to be "the Communist party of the District of Columbia" (never before known here) walked up and down in front of the department for a day, urging that Mr. Byrnes quit, the "Marines" be recalled from China and the government stop supporting Chiang.

Openly, thus, the professed Communists are advocating what the left-wing periodicals and congressmen are subtly promoting with greater power and influence.

Mrs. Roosevelt

Now comes also Mrs. Roosevelt up to the fray. AP quotes her as telling an audience at Fort Devens:

"Russia has not started any wars;" while denouncing Madame Chiang as undemocratic.

Russia has not started wars? Ask Finland. The Finns were called to the Kremlin in October 1939 and a slice of their territory demanded in true Hitler style. When they demurred, Russian bombers swept over Helsinki, Nov. 30, raining destruction on that city, and later all others. Power-poor Finland, near destruction, surrendered March 12, 1940.

How about Iran today? Persistently Russia has declined to allow Iranian troops into the Russian-occupied zone of their own country to stamp out a Communist revolution; therefore permitting the revolution to succeed, in expectation that a Communist-controlled state will be set up there. Moreover this pressure is supposed to force out of office the resisting Iranian government, so a Russian appeasement clique can take hold. Is this not aggression? War? Conquest? The families of those daily killed refute Mrs. Roosevelt.

I cannot ask:

How about China?

The martial clouds there suggest Russia is obliquely working against Mrs. Roosevelt and her peculiarly befuddled school of American thought—lately at least.

Agreement in China

Stalin's soldiers have reached some sort of unreported agreement with Chiang whereby they will hold on to the Manchurian cities until he can get big forces in there, thus keeping the Chinese Communists from capturing them, capturing them.

Both Chiang and Stalin have left the superior Jap forces (300,000) out along the railways, because the Chinese Communists would tear up the lines if the Japs were not there to protect them. (Stalin's concessions for these favors to Chiang have not been reported, but are judged here to be considerably beyond the known concessions Chiang has made to Russia in the published agreement.)

Furthermore Commissar Molotov insisted at the London conference the Chinese Communists were not Communists, but largely farm peasants led by bandits; and that Russia would rather have stability in China now (this from an official source off-the-record here.)

Now I do not wish to place any stamp of my own belief or authority upon these Russian inferences which are at variance with "the Communist party of the District of Columbia," Mrs. Roosevelt and leftwing and New Deal congressmen and periodicals. I merely say a variance exists, and that their campaign to bend or break the American policy is founded on complete factual delusions.

Facts Unknown

Personally, I believe their words show they are incapable of objective appreciation of the facts, but are guided in all their reasoning by the commie line domestically.

The American policy was simply stated in the Anderson letter by Mr. Byrnes, pointing out that we, as well as Russia, are under war obligations to clear Chinese territory of the Japs, and implying our assistance to Chiang will continue until China is cleared.

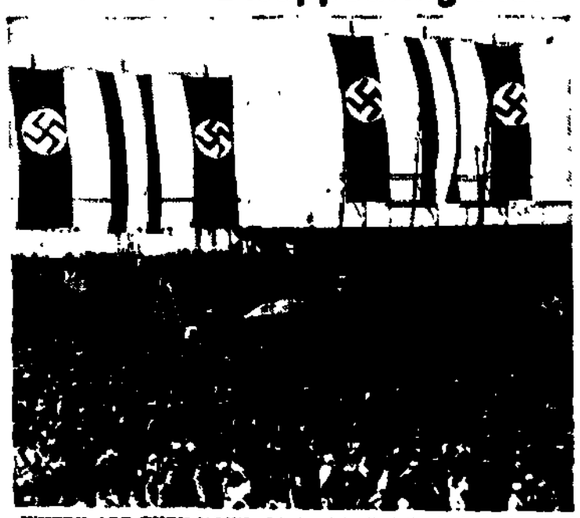

Thereafter, perhaps, the commies can come back and do in China what they are successfully concluding now in Iran.

One thing about Russian diplomatic technique proved by history is that it need never make simultaneous sense. It can violate the treaty Mrs. Roosevelt's husband wrung from Stalin guaranteeing the perpetual freedom and sovereignty of Iran; and simultaneously abide by its agreement with Mr. Roosevelt to join the defeat of Japan in China, even at the expense of Communists there. It can break up the United Nations procedure for peace at London, and then have its local party advocate ousting the American government in favor of Russia.

The leftwingers do not know Communism, Marxism or Russia. They are being fooled, and are trying to fool us all.

The Nazi Disappearing Act

WHERE ARE THEY NOW? It's hard to find the little fuehrers of Nazi Germany.

★ ★ ★

By BARBARA WACE
Associated Press Writer

BREMEN—The big boys are in the dock. But, for a reporter, it is difficult to find the hundreds of thousands of little fuehrers who strutted and hailed in every part of Germany.

The Germans have their own ideas where these "bonzen" are. They're all working for military government, some say ironically. Or they're masquerading as refugees from the Russian zone. Others say the worst Nazis never will be found, because they never joined the party and just put up party members as a front. Now, supposedly, they're still doing the same thing, with party members doing time for them.

And some, of course, have been arrested. Probably typical of this group is Dr. Rudolf Firle, who didn't throw his money about under the Hitler regime but who made plenty.

You don't hear much of families like the Firles in Germany any more. A submarine officer in World War I and an unobtrusive employe of North German Lloyd until Hitler appointed him managing director and virtual "King of Bremen," Firle lived with his family in solid comfort.

On the walls of the house at 10 Dijonstrasse were portraits of the U-boat crew who had sunk the British "Goliath," with a younger, less pompous Rudolf Firle looking out from under a German naval cap.

"Only the uniform of the Firle family," mourned the caretaker, ten years a lackey on of her master's Nazi prosperity. "All are gone, and the house requisitioned by the Americans for homeless people—one of them an Englishwoman married to a German."

Many Articles Gone

On up the stairs went the old lady's cackle. "Here was the beautiful sitting room, here their lovely books." But the red framed pedigrees, the submarine pictures, and half the books were missing. "Yes, the doctor burned many things just before the Allies got here, after he had escaped from Paris. But it was of no use. All was written down. All that he had been they knew. So four soldiers came and took him away."

One couple now cooks in the study where Helmut, "honor Leader" of the Hitler Youth, used to play endless marches and waltzes on his gramophone. "What will he do when he comes back from his Russian prison camp?" sighed old Frau Meyer. "Such a fine young man he grew. But how will he ever get a job now? Everybody knows how strong he was for the party.

Everybody had known it back in 1936 when 15-year-old Helmut had flung himself into every activity of the Hitler Youth. All the fun that Hitler craftily offered the children Helmut had grasped at. For the deep Nazi ideals of his younger, highbrow sister, Ruth, he had had no time.

Ruth's little bedroom, bare and Spartan, seemed very much as it had ever been, though many of the books here too were missing, and all the framed groups of Nazi expeditions and the huge portrait of her Fuehrer a sickly sentimental one of him smiling at the inevitable fair-haired child which she had treasured and almost worshipped.

The English lady and her husband lived now in Frau Firle's big bedroom and the doctor's study and dressing room. Her prim clothes hung where once had been crowded Frau Firle's gay evening dresses and sports clothes, worn on the many voyages she took in her husband's ships—perhaps to escape fencing in by Nazi life and smothering by the fanaticism of her husband and children.

There had been fear, too, in her eyes in the high days of 1936, when Ruth had argued the semi-divinity of Hitler, had rushed away for three-day unchaperoned hikes, had come in exhausted emotionally and physically after standing for hours in damp clothes to hear her Fuehrer speak at some anniversary procession.

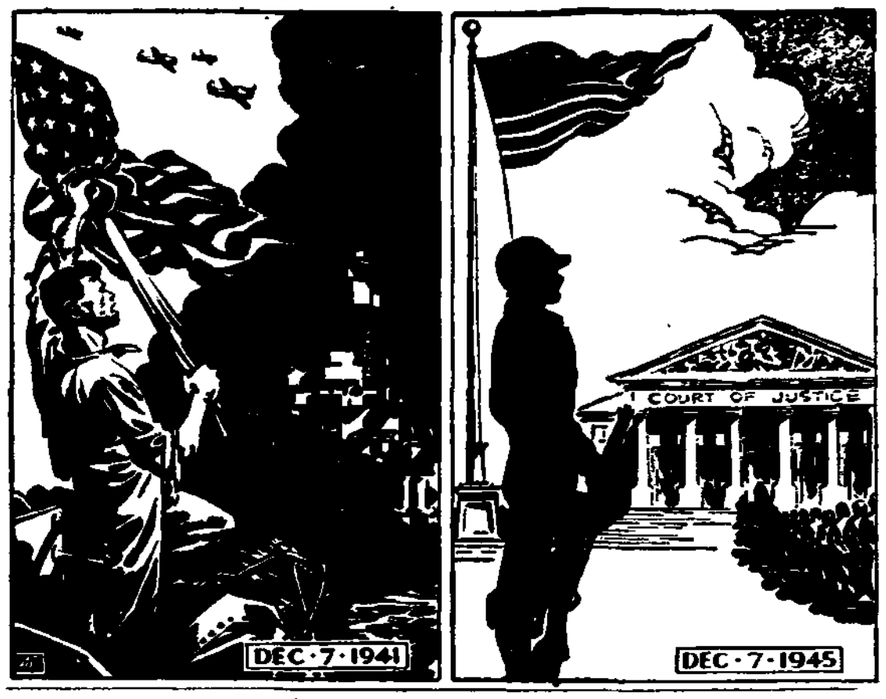

Now, with a daughter whose health, spirit, and illusions are shattered, she lives in the French zone, on the 200 marks monthly ($20) allowed her by the Allies from her husband's confiscated fortune. And buried deep among the linen in the caretaker's drawer lie the family photographs—Frau Firle, gay in a formal dinner gown, the Doctor, glowering behind her with his golden party badge, and Helmut and Ruth, bright-eyed children in their party uniforms.

The wild dog is found in all the wilder jungles of India. It hunts in packs, sometimes of 30 dogs.

OH, SAY CAN YOU SEE?

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, Dec. 7, 1935. Awarding of prizes for soybean exhibits and displays brought to a close the three-day celebration marking the addition of Old Fort Mills, Inc., as a new member of Marion's industrial family. First prize went to Oliver Withrow and second and third prizes to W. Snyder of near Bucyrus and Ira Williams of near Ridgeway. Judges were S. L. Anderson, county farm agent, and Homer Porteus, his assistant.

Russell R. McCoy was elected master councillor at the semi-annual meeting of Marion Chapter, Order of DeMolay. Ronald C. Perry was elected senior councillor and Sylvester W. Lucas, junior councillor.

The marriage of Miss Lodema Brady and Cletus M. Murphy took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brady of west of the city.

Mrs. Phoebe Ellen Zuspan, 73, former resident of Union county, died at her home at 233 Park boulevard.

Russell W. Thaw began a 9,500-mile flight to the southernmost point of South America in an airplane to be used in a search for Lincoln Ellsworth and his pilot, missing in the Arctic. Thew, son of Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw, and William Henry Klenke Jr., of New York, a mechanic, took off from Caldwell, N. J. and expected to make the trip in six days.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Monday, Dec. 7, 1925. President Coolidge, addressing the American Farm Bureau Federation in its convention at Chicago, warned farmers that they should not look to Washington for any legislation embodying artificial relief for their troubles. He said his administration would not countenance any price-fixing legislation, either direct or indirect.

Edmund H. Moore of Cleveland, Democratic national committeeman from Ohio and widely-known lawyer, died while visiting relatives in Youngstown.

Frank Brown, 61, died at the home of his son, Ernest Brown, on West Center street. He was a native of Marysville.

Charles Wiley was elected commander of Cooper Post, G.A.R.

Gilbert V. Paschall was elected chairman of the Salvation Army advisory board. E. H. Cowan was elected vice chairman and A. C. Queen secretary and treasurer.

Marion Lodge of Elks presented its minstrel and musical comedy show, "The Jollies of 1926," at the Grand theater under direction of the Joe Bren Production company of Chicago. R. E. Prettyman acted as interlocutor.

Educational War Against War

By Flora Lewis
Associated Press Writer.

LONDON—Uprooting the seeds of war is the goal set in the constitution of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, signed recently in London.

Forty-four nations, with the Soviet Union the only important absentee, have banded together for the first time in history in an organization of this kind. Its constitution provides for the free flow of information and ideas among nations, urges the interchange of professors, scientists, artists and others who can stimulate striving for higher moral and intellectual standards throughout the world.

When 20 countries have ratified the charter, the organization will be established permanently in Paris. Delegates who attended the conference hope that Russia, which declined to participate without explaining why, will soon add its name to the list of signatories.

MacLeish Preamble

The constitution of the new organization, which will work in conjunction with the United Nations peace agency, has a preamble written by U. S. delegate Archibald MacLeish.

"Since wars begin in the minds of men," it reads, "it is in the minds of men that defenses of peace must be constructed. Peace must be founded, if it is not to fail, upon intellectual and moral solidarity of mankind" and adds "that peace based exclusively on arrangements between governments could not last.

The constitution gives the UNESCO the right to submit international conventions to its members, which would bind them to certain standards of freedom and outlaw discrimination in world exchange of ideas. However, it expressly forbids interference in strictly domestic affairs of its members, in order to preserve "independence, integrity and the fruitful diversity of cultures and educational systems.

Aims at Equality

It also aims at advancing the "ideal of equality of educational opportunity without regard to race, sex or any distinctions, economic or social."

The organization will have a general conference, comparable to the general assembly of the United Nations, with an 18-member executive board, director-general and secretariat. Any member of the United Nations is automatically eligible to participate.

Although the constitution does not expressly mention press freedom, this topic is covered in clauses dealing with pledges to unfetter worldwide circulation of information and publications. It is considered likely that free access to news may be the subject of one of the agreements the organization is empowered by its charter to draft and submit to members.

Winter Hides Fate of Province

By The Associated Press

TROMSO, NORWAY—The answer to how inhabitants of war-ruined Finnmark in northern Norway will survive the winter now is hidden indefinitely behind clouds of Arctic snow.

The few military planes that traveled between Tromso and the more northerly points of Alta, Hamnbucht, Hammerfest and Kirkenes are weathered in and boats, which are in disrepair and lack fuel, move only sporadically.

But still every local steamer into Tromso brings a new group of people, evacuated from Finnmark at the tome of the German destruction and now trying to return on the chance of finding their homes intact.

Some of these sneak off north in fishing boats. Others remain in Tromso, where they wander aimlessly up and down the streets until the settlement has the constant appearance of a Middle eastern boom town on a Saturday night.

Retreating Germans destroyed all except four buildings—three churches and the North Cape Tea House in Finnmark, which once housed 30,000 Norwegians and 20,000 Laps or Mongolian Nomads.

Before German prisoners were evacuated from Finnmark this fall they cleared out most of the mines and built a few barracks. But still stray mines float around in the fjords, and barracks and igloos with makeshift insulation of peat offer little shelter from Arctic winds.

Whole settlements are completely isolated and the food problem is acute. One old man built himself a log teepee covered with cardboard about 30 miles south of Hamnbucht, refused to move and asked only a blanket or two so he could survive the winter.

Last spring the bodies of Russian prisoners were dug out of Finnmark's snow. Whether the hardy Norwegians can survive a similar winter only the spring thaw will tell.

NO. 1—THE FISHING TACKLE SHOP

CUSTOMER — Is this a fishing tackle store"

Clerk.—Approximately.

Customer—I couldn't tell from the way it had everything but fishing stuff in it. I like to see something in a fishing rod.

Clerk.—Who wouldn't?

Customer.—You mean you have no rods?

Clerk.—There was a fellow who came in here a month ago with a nice rod, but he had a police escort and wouldn't let me handle it.

Customer.—Did he want to sell it?

Clerk.—No, he was just showing off.

* * *

Customer.—But the war has been over months; aren't the fishing rods plants reconverting?

Clerk.—Search me.

Customer.—What are the factories doing?

Clerk.—Whatever they are doing they are not making rods.

Customer.—What's delaying 'em?

Clerk.—They tell me its the bamboo.

Customer.—The damned who?

Clerk.—Bamboo, bamboo! The Japs had all the bamboo. And it has to be seasoned any before we can use it for rods.

Customer.—How's chances for a rod by spring?

Clerk.—Not too good.

Customer.—What'll we fishermen do?

Clerk.—It looks as if you'd just have to go losing fish.

Customer.—There used to be auctions of fishing equipment left in the estates of sportsmen.

Clerk.—Not any more. If a man dies today and leaves a rod it constitutes a big estate and is confiscated.

Customer.—What if he also leaves a reel?

Clerk.—It means a contest by all the relatives.

Customer.—I suppose if the estate included 300 yards of good line it would go to the Supreme Court.

Clerk.—Right.

* * *

Customer.—Well, I'm sorry to bother you.

Clerk.—No bother and we always like to see a man come into the store these days. There is always the possibility he may have a used rod to put in on commission. Like to look in our showcases while you're here.

Customer.—Why?

Clerk.—Darned if I know!

Call It a "Boy-ler"

By Truman Twill

This country could get along with its clothes washing machines if designers would concentrate on a better way to launder kids, especially boys.

We don't need fancier automatic processes for doing laundry half as much as we need mechanical methods for doing boys. In a pinch, grown clothes can be turned over to professionals but boy-washing must be carried on in the home.

Specifications for a machine to give boys that well-scrubbed look which is the ambition of desperate mothers and critical fathers are simple.

The opening to the contraption would be one wall of the bathroom and the finished product at the other end would be deposited in his own bed—clean, dry, fed and ready for sleep. What would go on between the beginning and the end would be a series of time-saving methods for doing these things.

Shucking the boy, hanging up his clothes except those that are too dirty to be worn, and emptying the gravel out of his shoes are performing all this in something less than the hour it takes as a manual operation.

Soaking the boy in a grime-loosening solution capable of penetrating into the crevices of ear, the nails of the hand, the undersides of chin and, when necessary, the roots of hair, and doing this in a splash-proof manner.

Scrubbing the boy with cloths and brushes so arranged that suitable pressure can be brought to bear from all necessary angles in order to break through the murky patina formed by the hard-earned increment of grease and grime that is the dominant characteristic of boys at the end of the day and getting this done in such a way that the boy cannot squirm.

Rinsing the boy with water under sufficient pressure to get the soap out of his ears and the roots of hair and getting this detail handled in a hurry so the next customer can be shoved into the chute because papa and mama are in a hurry to get it over with so they can have a little peace and quiet.

Drying the boy, with special attention to the hair and between the toes; getting him into pajamas; lulling him into a peaceful mood; cleaning his teeth, hanging up his clothes and putting the cap on the toothpaste tube; finishing him with a piece of bread and butter; dumping him into bed, turning out the lights and announcing in stern terms that the session is ended. If the home gadget designers will only give us a decent break they'll quit fussing over clothes and start fussing over children.

Use for Surplus Army Trucks

By International News Service

PORTLAND, Ore.—Some 40,000 left-over army trucks would go into battle against a new enemy—the costly forest fires yearly taking their toll of America's last big stand of timber in the Pacific Northwest—if an interesting suggestion is carried out.

The old army trucks can easily be turned into highly mobile fire-fighting units by adding a simple tank to the body and attaching a pump driven by the truck engine.

Five states, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and California, are asking that disused army vehicles be sold to forest and logging operators for low prices to provide fire quenchers.

TOJO TO LEAD JAP WAR TRIAL

U. S. May Start Hearings in January, To Ask Death Penalty.

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, Dec. 7—Chief Prosecutor Joseph B. Keenan announced today the first war crimes trials in Japan tentatively were scheduled for January—with war-lord Hideki Tojo and his Pearl Harbor cabinet leading the parade of defendants.

"The accused will be presumed innocent until proved guilty," Keenan, General MacArthur's special staff counsel, said. But he added:

"Japanese war criminals must be punished and humiliated so that they will go down in history as ordinary felons of the lowest type."

The death penalty will be asked, he indicated.

He said he found President Truman and General MacArthur in accord on questions affecting trial procedure and on the requirement that trials be concluded as rapidly as possible.

Japanese war crimes suspects will be tried in groups.

On top of General MacArthur's order for the arrest of Marquis Koichi Kido, the arrival of Keenan in Japan brought full realization to the Nipponese the Allies mean business in rooting out aggressors. The order against Kido reached as close to the throne as MacArthur could get without arresting Emperor Hirohito.

MacArthur ordered the arrest of Kido, lord keeper of the privy seal and Hirohito's closest adviser, Prince Fumimaro Konoye and seven others.

Edwin W. Pauley, U. S. reparations commissioner, recommended confiscation of all Japanese assets abroad; removal from the country of the industrial potentials of the Zabiatsu (family monopoly); and huge slashes in shipbuilding, steel production and generation of electric power.

MacArthur ordered the removal from Japan of every mineral resource which might permit development of the atomic bomb.

Lack of Witnesses Delays McVay Trial

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 — A Navy general court martial trying Capt. Charles B McVay III took a four-day recess today when the judge advocate announced no additional prosecution witnesses were available to testify.

The hearing dealing with the sinking of the Cruiser Indianapolis, which McVay commanded off the Philippines last July, will resume next Tuesday.

The judge advocate, Capt. Thomas J Ryan Jr., told the court a score of witnesses were enroute here.

The prosecution has devoted four days to its presentation of charges that McVay failed to order a zigzag course while traveling between Guam and Leyte, and that he also failed to issue clear-cut orders to abandon ship before the Indianapolis went down.

HINT TRUMAN PLANS BUILDING PRIORITIES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7—President Truman was reported today to be planning to restore building materials to a priorities system in an effort to break a bottleneck in home building.

Officials of government agencies familiar with the program under consideration said it had been agreed there must be a move quickly to get home construction rolling.

These officials, who asked that their names not be used, said Mr. Truman might announce some action at his news conference scheduled for 4 p. m. today.

It is known Reconversion Director John W. Snyder's staff worked late last night to have the program in shape for announcement at the conference.

The purpose of the plan would be to make sure materials get into the hands of contractors who want to build homes.

Was Rationing Tough? OPA Had Worse Plan

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7—So you thought rationing was tough, eh? Relax; it could have been worse.

OPA had made plans to ration clothing, soap, milk, automobile batteries and coal. It even had peeked at the possibility of rationing gas and electricity.

A former OPA official, Pat French, reminisced today about what might have been. Now an employe of the budget bureau, French helped draft OPA ration programs.

Maybe you didn't like the A card on the old bus. Well, you might have had another one, for milk.

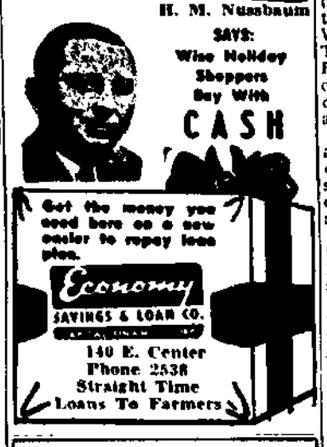

French said one plan called for A, B, and C milk cards. One for adults. One for growing children. One for babies, mamas-to-be and people on special diets.

Remember those unusued stamps in the back of ration book III? The ones with pictures of tanks, guns and ships?

OPA figured clothes rationing was so likely it had better toss in some spare stamps, just in case.

PACIFIC LOOP GETS O.K. AS BIG LEAGUE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 7.—The National Association of Professional Baseball leagues (minors) today adopted legislation forbidding the payment of bonuses for the signing of played contracts and approved the Pacific Coast league's bid to advance from AA to Major league classification. (More details on sports page).

A resolution, adopted 14 to 2, requires that all payment to players must be included in the salaries given in their contracts. This does not outlaw payments for participation in playoffs or other inter-league or intra-league series.

The resolution also must be passed by the major leagues before it becomes a part of baseball law. The majors meet in Chicago next week.

The only dissenting votes were cast by the International league and the Piedmont leagues.

The convention's approval of the Pacific Coast league's bid for major league classification was unanimous.

INFLUENZA

influenza epidemic was increasing, reports from the city schools were favorable.

E. E. Holt, superintendent of city schools reported, following a check of the schools, that attendance is good and even a little better than it has been in the past week. Most of the absence is in the elementary grades.

Pleasant Township school has the most absences in the county school reporting 24 per cent of their total attendance absent, with almost 50 per cent of the elementary students out of school. Most of the senior high grades in the schools reported a perfect attendance.

65 OHIO SCHOOLS CLOSED IN 13 COUNTIES

By The Associated Press

An influenza epidemic caused the closing of 65 schools in 13 Ohio counties today and forced shutdown of theaters, bowling alleys and recreational centers in Portage county.

Six township schools and those in Kent and Ravenna were ordered closed in Portage county after pupil absenteeism reached 39 per cent at Kent and 34 per cent in Ravenna.

A 40 per cent absentee mark among Trumbull county students coupled with a wave of teacher illnesses caused the closing of five schools in Brookfield township and others in Vernon, Vienna, Weathersfield, Braceville and Lordstown districts.

Absence of more than 1,000 students and 14 teachers forced shutdown of schools at Martins Ferry, Bridgeport and St. Clairsville in Belmont county. Jefferson county schools closed included those at Dillonvale, Yorkville, Wintersville, Tiltonville, Empire, Salt Run, Toronto and Blue Run.

Other schools closed because of the influenza epidemic included:

Mahoning county: six schools in Springfield and Austintown townships; Clinton county: five at Wilmington; Summit county: Twinsburg, Bath, Northfield and Richfield; Geauga county: Chardon and Middlefield; Tuscarawas county: six schools at Dennison and Uhrichsville;

Cuyahoga county: Strongsville and North Royalton; Columbiana county; Goshen and Green township schools; Medina county: Medina city schools and several schools in Lake county.

Influenza outbreak was blamed today for the death of Miss Ethel McDaniel, 54, Martins Ferry high school teacher.

Miss McDaniel, a member of the Martins Ferry faculty 26 years, died in a hospital after an attack of influenza developed into pneumonia.

Labor Party Wins Fresh Confidence from Tory Defeat

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP World Traveler

LONDON, Dec. 7 — The major assault against the new Labor government by the Conservatives, under the leadership of former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, didn't get the Tories very far—a result which the veteran generalissimo of course had expected, since it was a foregone conclusion that the Socialists would defeat the motion of censure by a smashing majority.

I sat in the commons gallery during the two-day debate and, while Churchill's personal contribution was impressive for its superb craftsmanship, it struck me that it didn't carry the conviction we've been used to getting from him. Still, it was like old times to watch him in action again on the floor of the house, as I first did 30 years ago.

D. Mackenzie

Churchill has not lost any of his punch with passing time, and the Laborites listened to him with vast respect, but I'm afraid he was trying to lay bricks with very thin mortar.

Well, there can be no doubt that this battle royal will give the Laborites further confidence in pursing their program of nationalization which the Conservatives declare means regimentation of the individual and inflation. Whatever the real meaning may be, the government undoubtedly is determined to keep forging ahead in molding a Socialist state during its five years of office, for it has its mandate from the voters.

Workers Determined

We must recognize that the working people, and many of the middle class as well, are determined on betterment of their way of life. Workers such as the vast army of coal miners, who for generations have been terribly under-privileged, never will abandon their fight.

At the same time there is uneasiness in England, even among many who support labor, over this great experiment in Socialism. The vast majority of the people don't want to see it sway too far to the left. They don't want any regimentation.

In this connection English folk are coming to Mrs. Mac and me and asking anxiously what the United States thinks about the new government. They are greatly afraid that America will get the idea Britain is going extremist.

That isn't a new fear, for I encountered it here on my last visit in 1942 when the Socialist movement already was showing much strength. I've reported in this column before that the late Dr. William Temple, who then was Archbishop of Canterbury, inquired from me with much concern whether America thought England was swinging too far left. He had heard it said that this leftist trend might harm Anglo-American relations, and he was worried.

This uneasiness is understandable when you remember that England has been one of the most conservative countries in the world and only now has put the helm over.

Answer to this fear is that England wants American friendship. Apart from all other considerations, John Bull has been terribly hurt by the war, and he's feeling mighty lonely these days among the wrecks of the once prosperous countries of western Europe.

Senate Gets UNRRA Measure from House

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7—A new $1,350,000,000 grant for relief work abroad—with a nudge to Russia attached—is up to the senate.

The house by a vote of 327 to 39 yesterday passed the measure to provide funds for the next 18 months of operations by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. Attached was a substitute news freedom rider proposed by Rep. Herter (R-Mass.)

It asks President Truman to use his influence with nations receiving aid to bring about permission for American correspondents to report UNRRA news without censorship.

A defeated proposal by Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio) would have required nations to permit U. S. reporting of UNRRA activities as a condition for receiving aid.

RITES SET FOR BUCYRUS

BUCYRUS, Dec. 7—Rites will be conducted in Elyria Saturday for Mrs. Jane Anna Clark, 72, who died Wednesday at her home here. Burial will be made in Ridgelawn cemetery at Elyria. Mrs. Clark was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, and came to Bucyrus to make her home 20 years ago. A son, Alexander Clark of Elyria and five grandchildren, survive.

One Dead as Blasts Hit 2 Ohio Plants

By The Associated Press

LEBANON, O., Dec. 7—An explosion at the King Powder Co. in nearby Kings Mills rocked the countryside last night injuring one workman and causing $25,000 damage.

R. Eugene King, president of the company, said a fire of undetermined origin preceded the blast which destroyed a powder mixing building.

The force of the explosion was felt 15 to 20 miles from Kings Mills.

At Dayton, yesterday an employe was killed and several were injured in an explosion and fire that destroyed five small frame buildings at the United Fireworks plant. The dead man was identified tentatively as William Warnick.

INFANT DAUGHTER DIES

NEVADA, Dec. 7—Sandra Carol Cover, daughter of Max and Varian Harriman Cover of near Wyandot, who was born Nov. 30, died in Bucyrus City hospital Tuesday. Short funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon in the Bender and Lucas funeral home here by Rev. C. B. Doty, pastor of the Methodist church at Wyandot. Burial was in Grand Prairie cemetery.

MARYSVILLE

8:30 p. m. Dec. 19, with the high school band to provide music and with Maj. Gen. Beightler as the speaker. This event is to be in honor of all the servicemen and servicewomen of the community.

A banquet honoring Maj. Gen. Beightler is to be held in the Oakland hotel at 6:30 o'clock that evening. There will be seventy-five tickets sold to this event, with the tickets to be placed on sale at a pre-announced time and well in advance of the dinner and sold on a "first come, first served" basis. General Beightler will speak briefly to the banquet gathering before going to the auditorium. Mrs. Angus MacIvor has been named by Mayor Asman as menu and decorations chairman.

Maj. Gen. Beightler was born in Marysville and went through the local schools. It was while he was a high school student here that he started his military career as a private in Co. E, Ohio National Guard. After World War I he returned to this city and served as city engineer and as assistant county engineer under his father, the late W. P. Beightler, until accepting a position in the state highway department.

Maj. Gen. Beightler has reached the highest rank of any native of Union county and during his leadership of the 37th (Ohio) Division won many medals awarded for personal bravery and efficiency in commanding a division. He was in command of the division in seven campaigns in the Pacific, including Munda, New Georgia, Bougainville, Lingayen, Manila, Baguio and Cagayen. After the Japanese surrender he was made commander of the entire Luzon area and accepted the surrender of Yamashita. The division was overseas 42 months.

TRIALS

naval orders revealing German war ships and camouflaged troop transports carried British flags and signals to screen the attack on Norway and Denmark.

Another surprise was the disclosure by the prosecution that a large portion of the German air force's plans for parachute troop operations during the Lowlands invasion fell into Allied hands on Jan. 10, 1940—just four months before the Nazis actually jumped off. The plans were found in a German plane which crashed in Belgium.

Critical Delay

Turning to Germany's invasion of Yugoslavia and Greece on April 6, 1941, British prosecutors submitted documents and secret speeches by Hitler showing the attack on the two countries delayed for four weeks his invasion of Russia—which began June 22, 1941.

Some military experts say they believe these four weeks meant the difference between victory and defeat in the Russian campaign.

Hitler, according to one of his directives, ordered Yugoslavia attacked "without warning and destroyed with lightning speed."

A letter from Hitler asked Mussolini to postpone the Italian invasion of Greece until after the 1940 elections in the United States, when President Roosevelt was re-elected. Mussolini disregarded the request and attacked Oct. 28, 1940.

Col. H. S. Phillimore, assistant British prosecutor, introduced records showing plans for the attack on Yugoslavia were being discussed Aug. 12, 1939—only two months after the fuehrer promised Yugoslavia's Prince Regent Paul "we have become neighbors with common boundaries fixed for all time."

VAST SEARCH PUSHED FOR 27 LOST AIRMEN

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 7—A vast sea and air armada was ordered out today to scan 100,000 square miles of the Atlantic in a "last chance" effort to rescue 27 men who disappeared with a formation of five torpedo bombers and a missing search plane.

The Navy ordered 248 planes into the air, while 18 surface craft—including the baby flattop USS Solomons—numerous merchant ships and other searchers made it probably the biggest rescue effort of peacetime.

Two clues removed some of the mystery that cloaked the disappearance of the entire formation of bombers, carrying 14 men, and the Martin rescue craft that joined them in the Atlantic's limbo Wednesday with 13 men aboard.

One was word from the S. S. Gaines Mills it saw an explosion at sea off New Smyrna beach at 7:50 p. m. Wednesday, and what appeared to be an airplane falling.

The airport weather station at Miami reported a large area of turbulent air rolled out of a storm centered over Georgia, swept over Jacksonville about noon and reached Miami by nightfall.

A meteorological freak—squalls on the surface, 40 mile winds at 1,000 feet, and full hurricane of 75 miles an hour at 8,000 feet—was recorded at 4 p. m.

The missing formation was last heard from at 5:25 p. m. at which time the planes had slightly more than one hour's fuel supply.

New Production Head at Borden Co. Plant

Employes of the Borden Dairy and Ice Cream Co. held a dinner last night at Hotel Harding to announce appointment of Mathew Carmean to the position of production manager of the plant.

He was recently discharged from the armed service after serving four years. Before entering the service he was assistant plant superintendent here. He resides at 412 Girard avenue.

REAMS FEARS WAVE OF CRIME IN OHIO

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., Dec. 7—Ohio's Welfare Director Frazier Reams thinks the "resurgent wave of crime and lawlessness" is more to be feared than the atomic bomb. Reams, in a radio address on crime and juvenile delinquency here yesterday, asserted that the child who grows up in a community where there is crime and lawlessness suffers from a worse sense of insecurity "than anything that either the child or the adult needs fear from the atomic bomb."

Tracing the cause of the post-war crime increase, Reams, a former Lucas county prosecutor, said the menace lay among those "who had too much money, too much time and too much indulgence while the soldier and sailor were winning freedom for them."

He pictured the home and the church as "twin rocks" upon which parents could build security for their children—even in the atomic area.

Cleveland Newspapers Face Printers' Strike

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 7—A strike vote will be taken Sunday afternoon among members of the Am. Typographical Union employed on Cleveland's three daily newspapers, local union President William G. Barrow announced yesterday.

A favorable vote would mean suspension of publication on Monday of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, the Cleveland News and the Cleveland Press, the union official said.

William M. Farrar, secretary of the Cleveland Newspaper Publishers' association, expressed hope the threatened strike would be averted.

International and local union officials are demanding a 30 per cent increase above the present scale, with 10 per cent additional for night work and 15 per cent for the "lobster" shift.
